SENIORS

Our Senior class started out from the Middle School as a group of small cliques. Each one had its own culture and nobody ventured out to become friends with someone in another clique. As we got older, we moved on up into the crazy world of high school life. Passing by all of the upperclassmen in the halls was a scary thing at first, but soon the fear subsided. We all faced the pressures of schoolwork and the progressive changes in our friends. We became friends with people we had not known before or just had not really met. We all grew up and became "The Seniors."

"Um, Megan, you're pulling my hair." (Jane Condon, Megan Kennedy and Sarah Sperbeck)

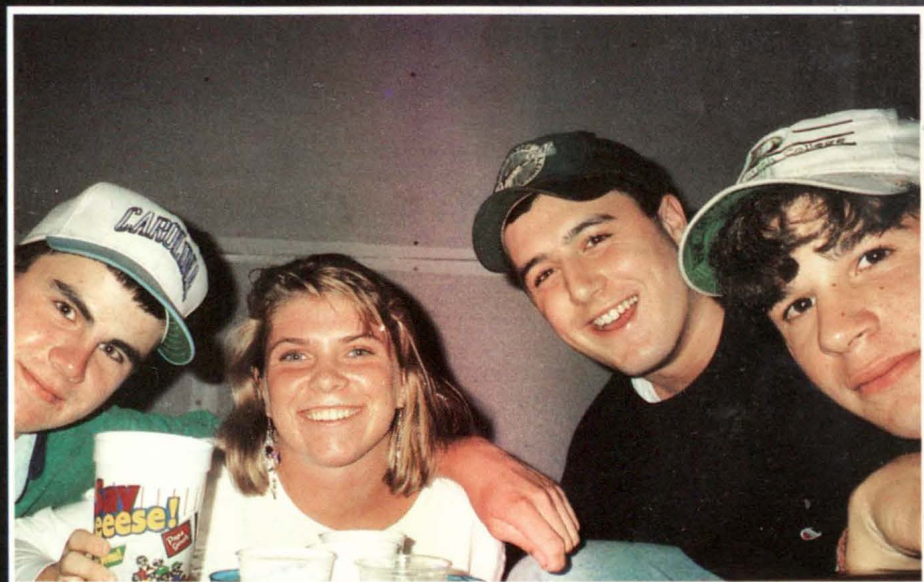

"I am a senior, and you're going to get out of my seat." (Carlos Kase)

"A little tired, Eben?" (Eben Sawyer, Jon Soldano, and Katie Walsh)

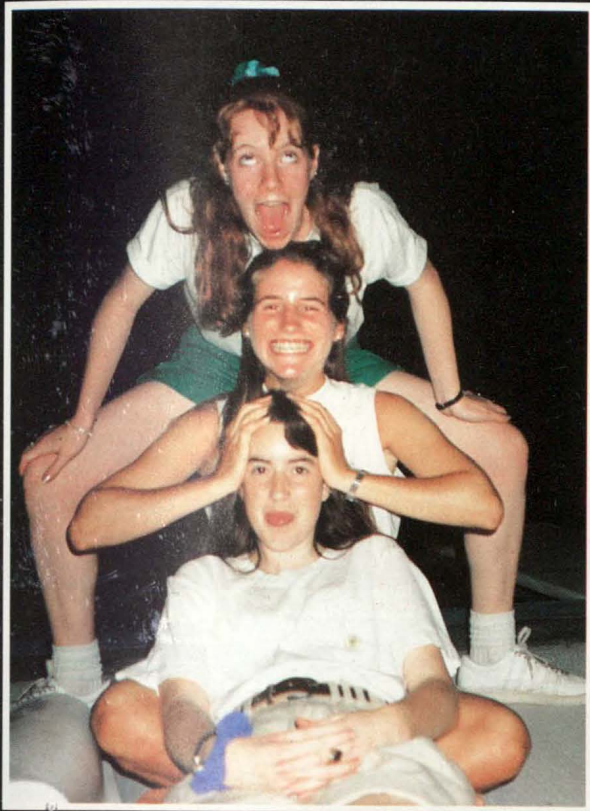

Joanna and Jackie taking a break. (Joanna Morse and Jackie Kang)

"Guys, what are you doing to Kristie?" (Mike Hallett, Kristie Gackenhaimer, Todd Rapp and Torrey Marshall)

Joanna, what are you doing? (Joanna Morse, Allison Rourke, and Robin Mosby)

Dave studying in the library (Dave Rothwell)

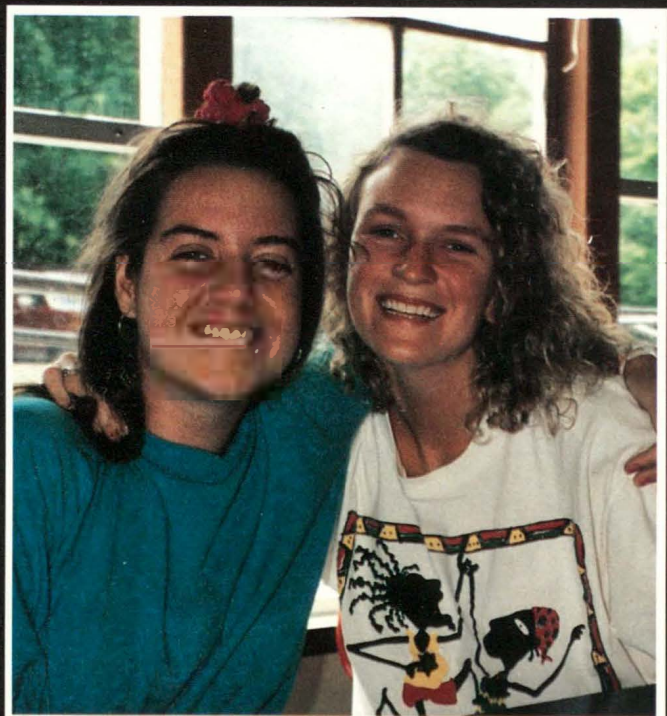

"Stacy, is there anything left in that cup?" (Daphne Mahoney, Susan Martin, Taryn Yaitanes, Merrie Hatch, Nicole Hirsh and Stacy Miller)

Amy, you're supposed to keep your eyes open for pictures. (Amy Haffermehl, Dave Hoffman, Dave Rempis, James Richardson, Kristie Gackenhimer, Kip Lange, and Chris Gaughan)

"Rob, why are you leaning on my shoulder?" (George Kilmain, Sark Renjilian-Burgy, and Rob Kulch)

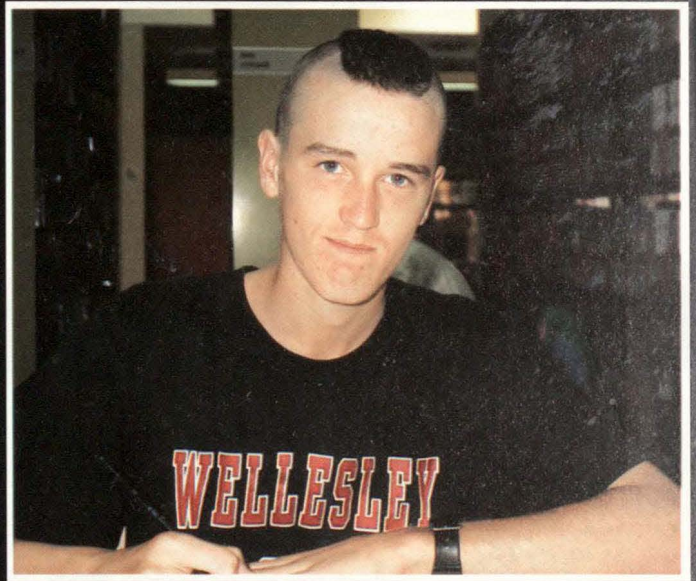

The inseparable pair (Leanne Fitzsimmons and Heather Kuske)

SENIORS

Senior year began with the pressure of schoolwork and applications hanging over everyone's shoulders. Everyone was trying their hardest to keep their grades up and decide what they wanted to do after they graduated while at the same time trying to have a fun senior year. After mid-year exams were over, however, everyone decided that their true senior year was to begin as soon as possible. Parties started to occur more and more frequently while the pressures of schoolwork were lightened, if not by the teacher, then by the students. Over all, the year was a great one and seemed to go by too fast. It was a year to be remembered!

Tim, studying diligently (Tim Hogan)

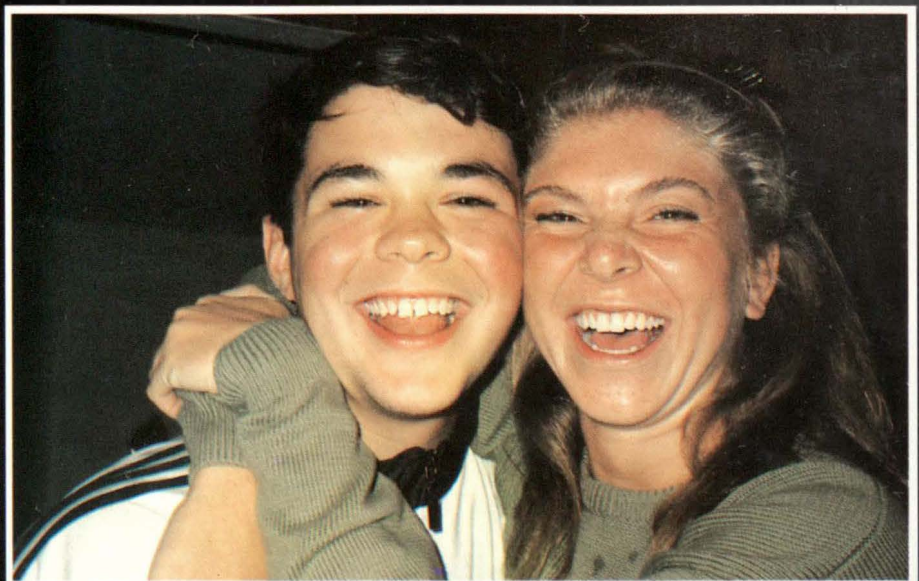

"You did WHAT on Friday night?" (Dan O'Toole)

"Kim, are you staring at Jamie again?" (Kristen Becker, Christine Bower, Eileen Joy and Kim Torres)

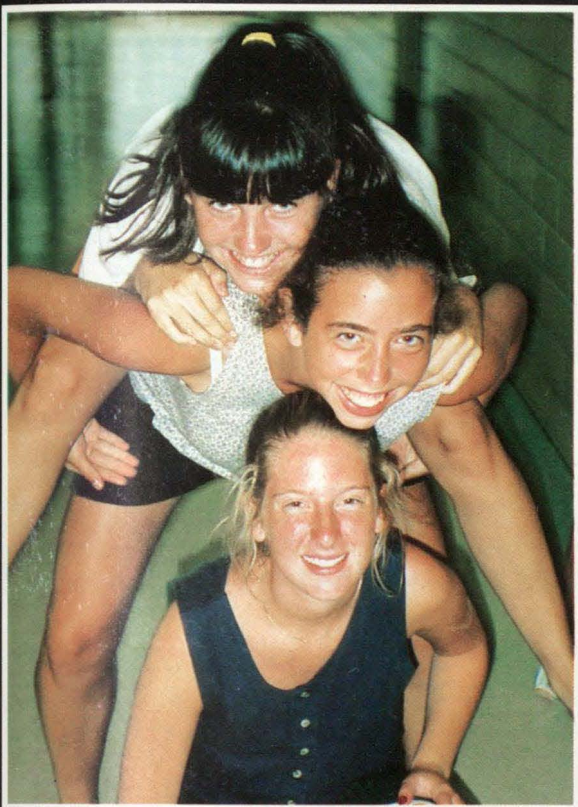

"It's the Nig Shah show, starring, Nig Shaw!" (Nigam Shah)

"Liv, we know you like Eben, but are you THAT happy to see him?" (Eben Sawyer and Liv Hegstad)

"Take the picture before I drop Janel!" (Jane Condon, Naamah Zitomersky and Sarah Sperbeck)

"Stacy, I told you never to say that!" (Taryn Yaitanes, Stacy Miller and Daphne Mahoney)

Wait, how did Nicole's nose get in this one? (Randy Stewart and Amy Haffermehl)

"Aren't you a little sunburned for springtime, Kristie?" (Kristie Gackenheimer and Dan Ferry)

Greg and Kip are showing us their dance (Dave Rempis, Kip Lange and Greg Furie)

Luke showing us his new wave glasses (Luke Renjilian-Burgy)

UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen were an important contribution to the atmosphere of Wellesley High School. They were a large part of the school's athletic teams, academics, and social gatherings. The freshmen came into the school with high hopes and expectations, wanting to be part of the crowd. Sophomores were still learning the ropes and looked up to their peers. Juniors were in their first year with special privileges. They were important role models for the other underclassmen. Together these groups made up the different personalities and contributed to the uniqueness of Wellesley High School.

Say CHEESE! (Rebecca Liggero, Julie Frizoli, Hope Tryon)

Sitting Pretty (Holly Snyder, Catlin Gamble)

A Junior Group (Jon Zins, Mandy Dillon, Courtney VanWert, Lauren Chandler, Jenn Kelley, Noah Heller, Janet Williams)

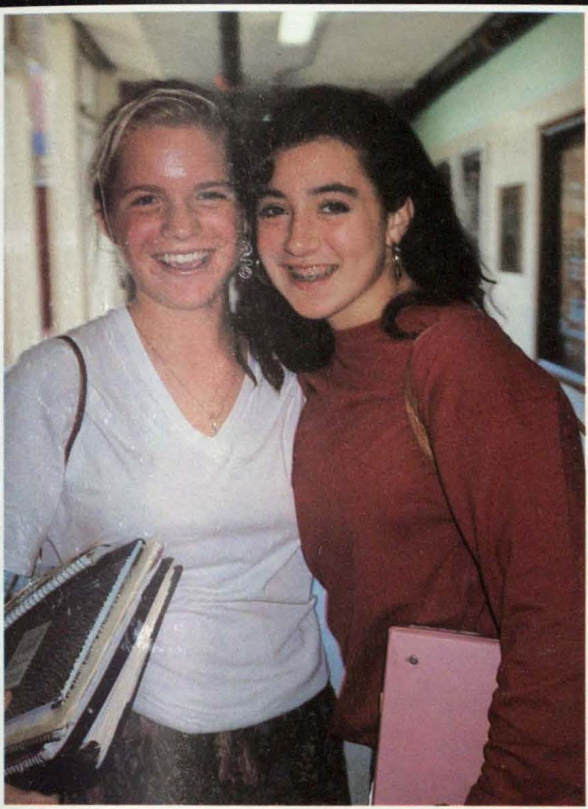

The Joseph name lives! (Peter Joseph, Mike Joseph)

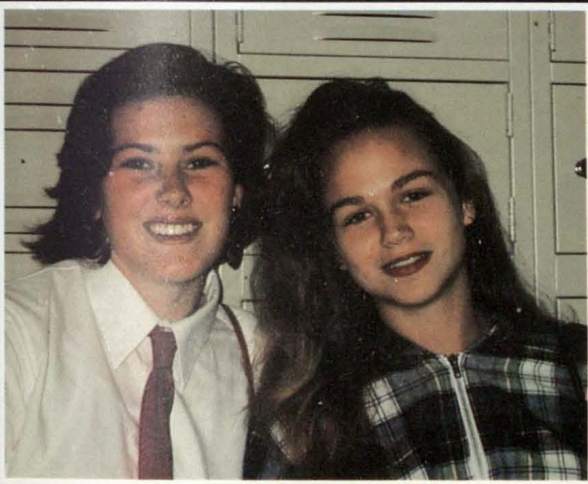

Say What? (Chris Lamuto, Mark Cavallero)

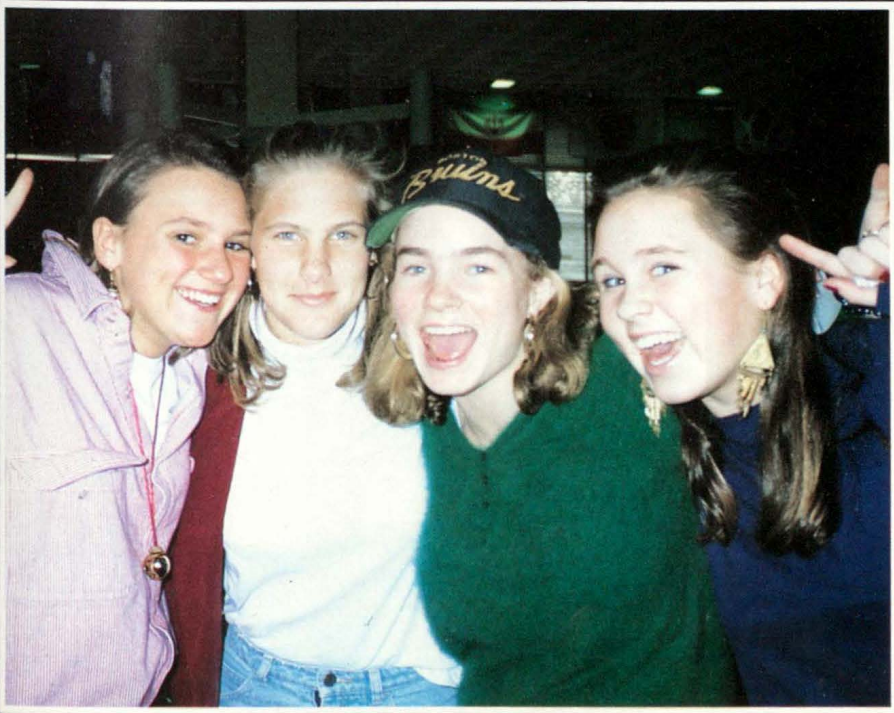

Don't be late for class. (Amy Stetson, Jen Reading)

Come on Shawna, SMILE! (Jill Montgomery, Shawna Smith)

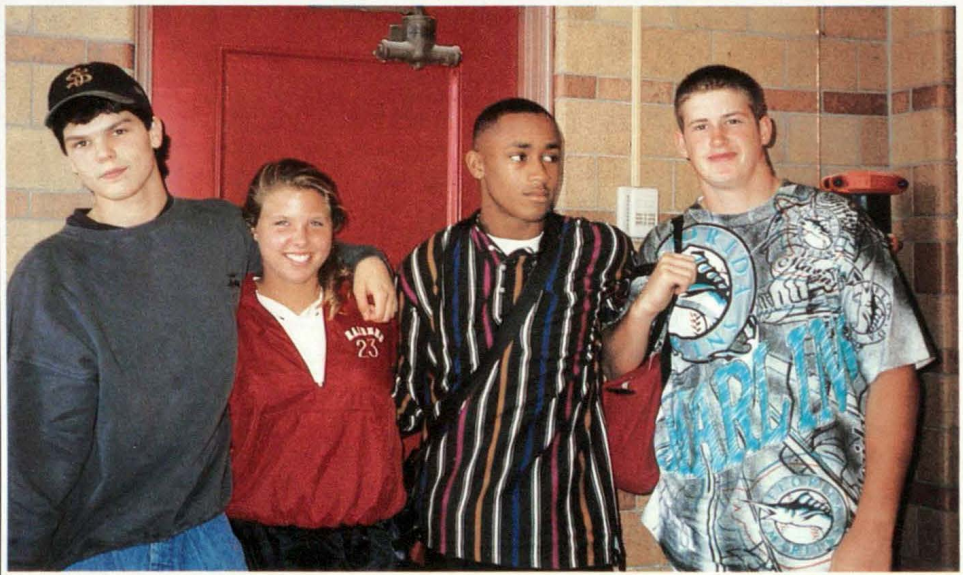

Say Ahhhh!

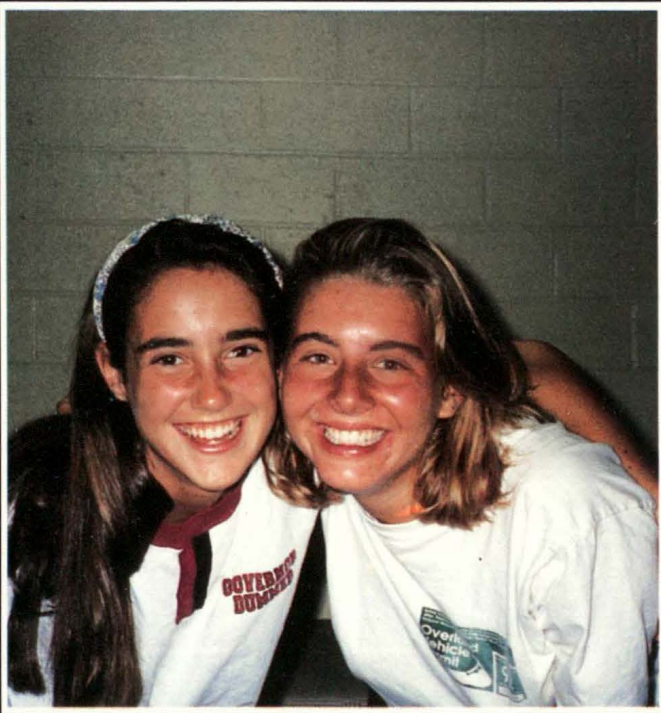

Laura, always on top of things. (Laura Burt, Tara Hanlon)

Look at me! (Hope Tryon, Lang Hedman, Libby Halleran, Jen St. Thomas)

What are you looking at Rance?

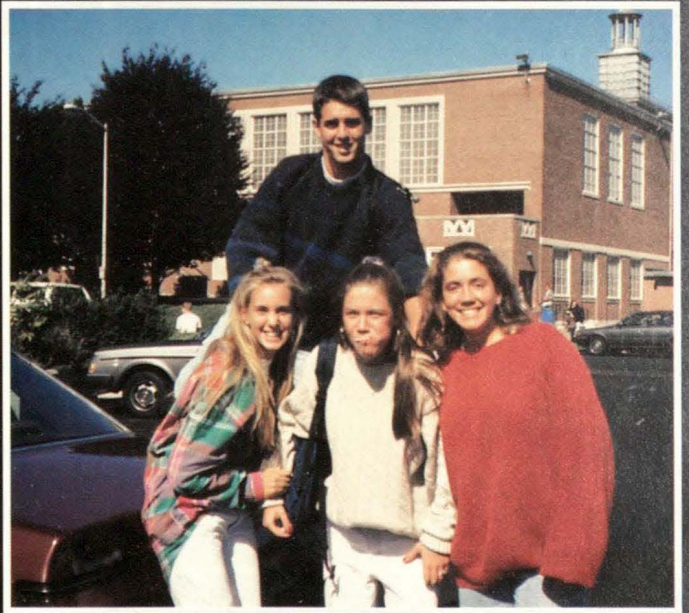

All Smiles

MORNINGS

The alarm shrieked and you were violently hurled out of your feathered nests and into a world of tepid showers and obnoxious radio talk show hosts. You wolfed down your Honeycombs and Tropicana orange juice and dashed up the stairs, just in time to see the bathroom door shut as your thirteen-year-old sister disappeared into its depths for her morning makeup routine. Proclaiming death to all adolescents, you ran pell-mell into the closet, searching desperately for an outfit that would project the "real" you — jean shorts from the Limited and a Gap rugby. After numerous threats on your part to break down the door, Miss Middle School finally emerged. She was especially generous today: you were left with a whole five minutes to brush your teeth, wash your face, comb your hair, stick in your contacts, pet the dog — and you were outta there, ready for another fun-filled day at Wellesley High!

"How can you be so cheery in the morning?" (S. Pollenz, K. Drew, C. Nesbit, A. Faubert)

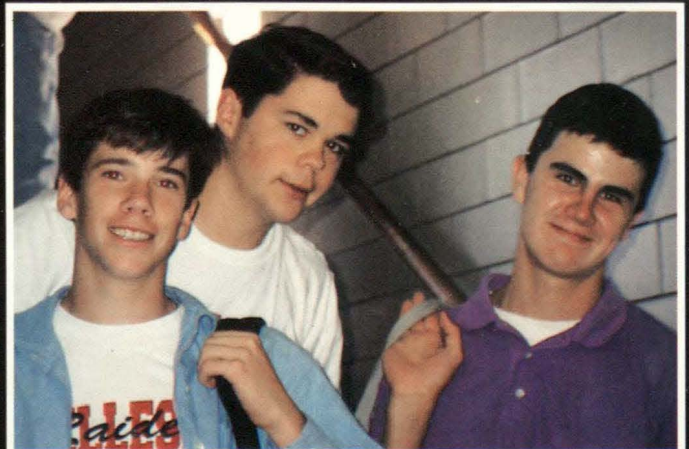

"Leave me alone. I have four minutes to finish this essay." (Sean Houlihan)

"What do you mean you don't deliver?" (Tracy Jolles)

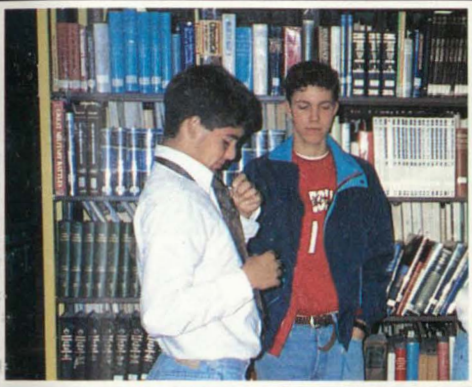

"Could you guys be any cuter?" (C. Perry, A. Klabin)

"Larry, Curly, and Moe" (M. Defazio, E. Sawyer, M. Hallett)

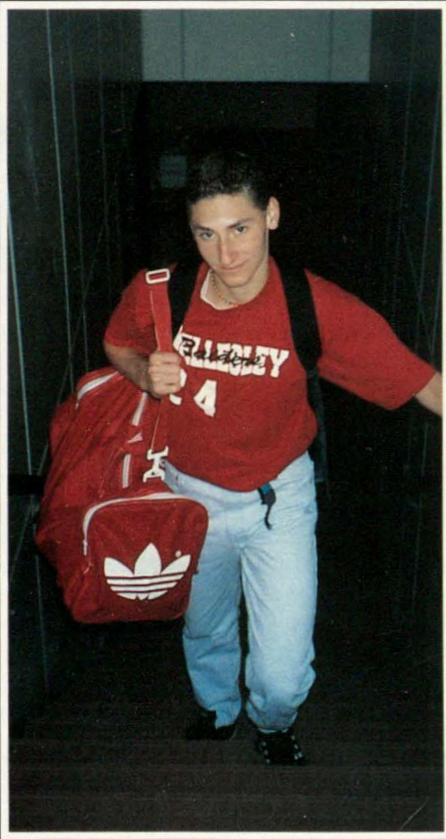

"Will it be a Windsor or a Four-in-hand this morning?" (Brian Forsythe, Alex Kalejs)

"Only six more hours." (J. Hayman)

"Please take my picture?" (Lang Hedman)

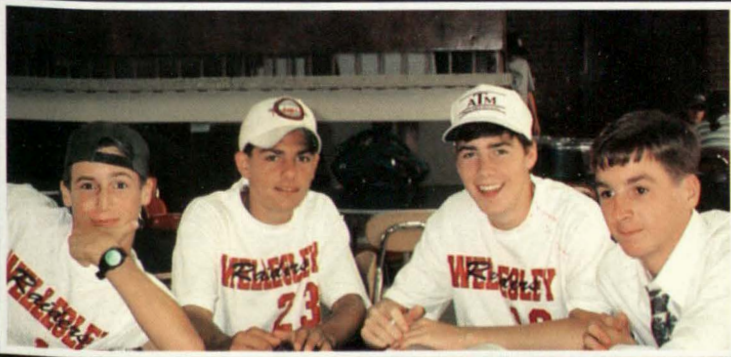

"I can't believe how many times I have to climb these stairs!" (E. Jer-sky)

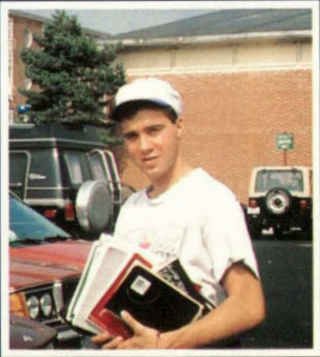

"Too cool for school" (Carl Nilsson)

"Now I'll be able to stay awake through Chemistry!"

"Ah! What the great taste of Wheaties will do for a man!" (J. Boyle, R. Montalto, J. Downes, D. Cooney)

"I just rolled out of bed." (Peta-Jon Lincoln)

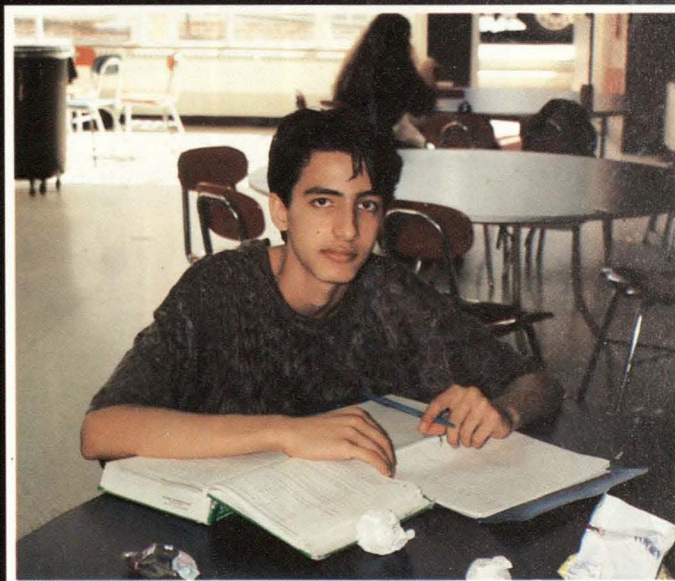

"Definitely a morning person" (C. Sasso)

LUNCHTIME

For most of us, the days when mom packed our lunches of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, a juice box and some sort of snack, are only a distant memory. But students at WHS found that the high school cafeteria offered a wide variety of choices for those of us who were too lazy to prepare our own "brown bag" lunch in the morning. Even mom's homemade PB&J didn't measure up to having your pick of two hot meals, salad bar, deli-bar, or three to four different kinds of sandwiches for only $1.60! Some traditional favorites were clam rolls, special pizza and the famous a la carte line. Rumor has it that McDonalds is offering WHS a large sum of money in exchange for the recipe for their celebrated fries because they were so popular. And for those times when you missed homemade sandwiches by mom, the "caf" offered triple decker peanut butter, jelly and FLUFF sandwiches!! (Something mom didn't include too often ...)

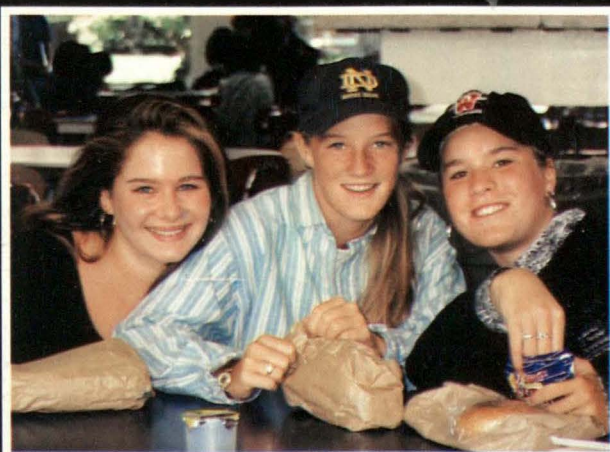

Leave me alone. I'm studying for a math test! (Reza Poortassagy)

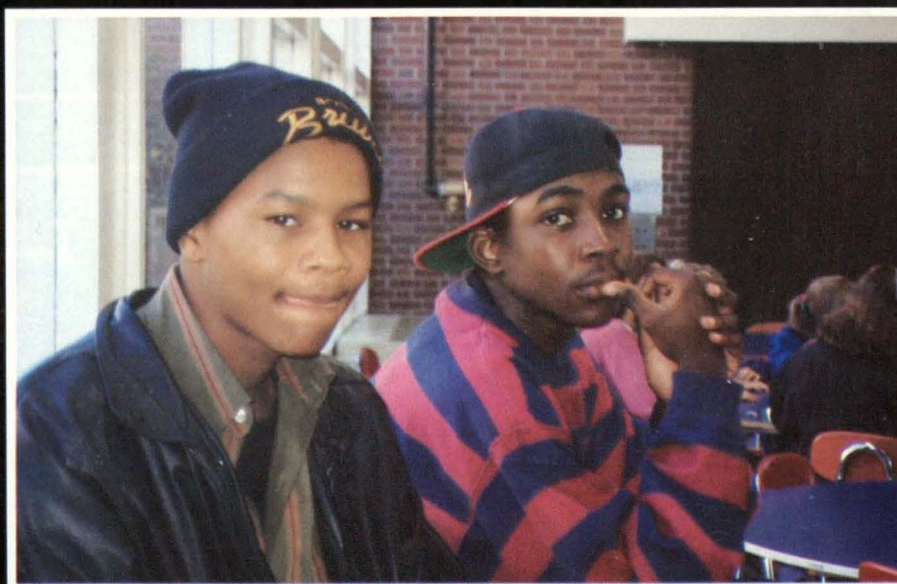

We have Raider spirit! (Risa Sparks, Eve Cohen, Catherine Pollino, Frances Hall, Heidi Benny)

Which of these things is not like the other? (Jody Boyle, Roger Montalto, Jim Downes, Dave Cooney)

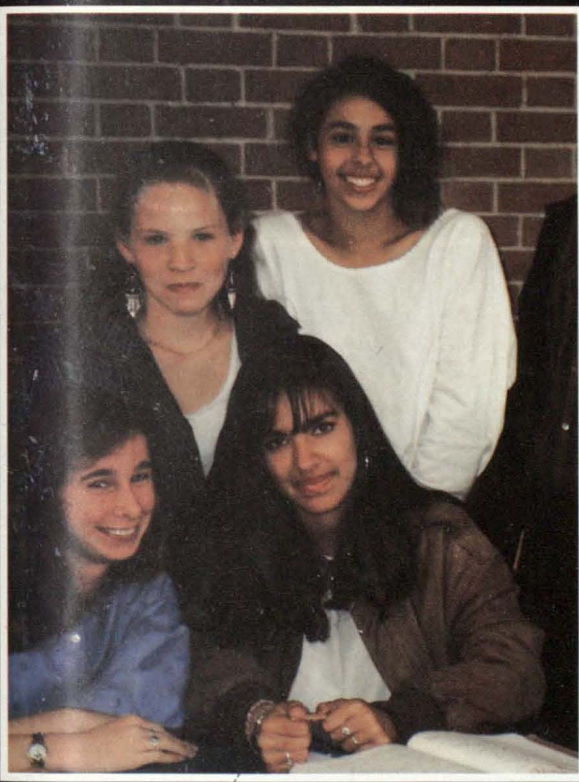

They're all smiles! (Heather Weiner, Tara Hanlon, Tracy Jolles)

You want my autograph too? (Dana Thompson, Damien Vassell)

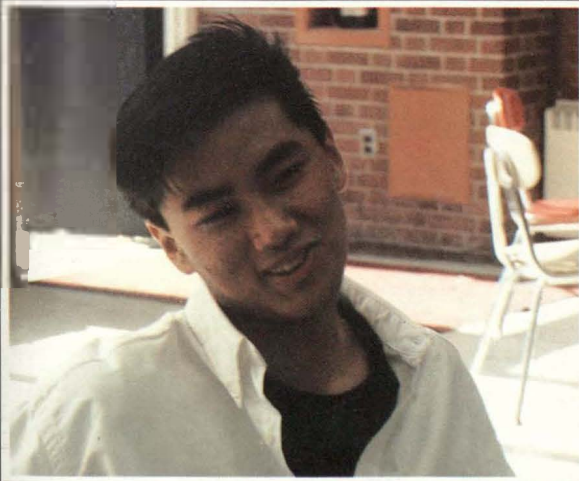

Those frosh, hard at work even during lunch!
(Jennifer Smardon, Hope Tryon, Martha Cowley, Kaylani McCullough)

Hi! I'm Chip Steward from "Good Morning America." This is Jenny Hicks . . .

What did you do Saturday night Dave?? "Well . . ."
(Dave Kong)

"Friends forever" (Tim Barros, Kelly Hurley, Tenneysa Hughes)

Looking for someone, girls? (Janelle Crowley, Deanna Gerber)

The great table of friends.

TGIF

There is a buzz of excitement that runs through the halls on Fridays. The weekend is a welcomed break from the homework, practices, and the extracurricular activities that fill our week. Students may attend a dance, a sports event or even journey into Boston to explore the city. Although Wellesley is a small suburban town you can always find something to do. Among favorites are hanging out at friends' houses or just renting a movie and relaxing. Unfortunately with the arrival of Monday also comes the bitter realization that the weekend is only two days long.

"We're outta here!" (Nigam Shah, Brett Geoly, Jeremy Parker, Dan Godrick, James Richardson, Dan Burke)

"Getting ready for a night on the town." (Mike Sheehan, Jen Redding)

"Making plans for the evening." (Jill Goldberg, Monica Staatterman)

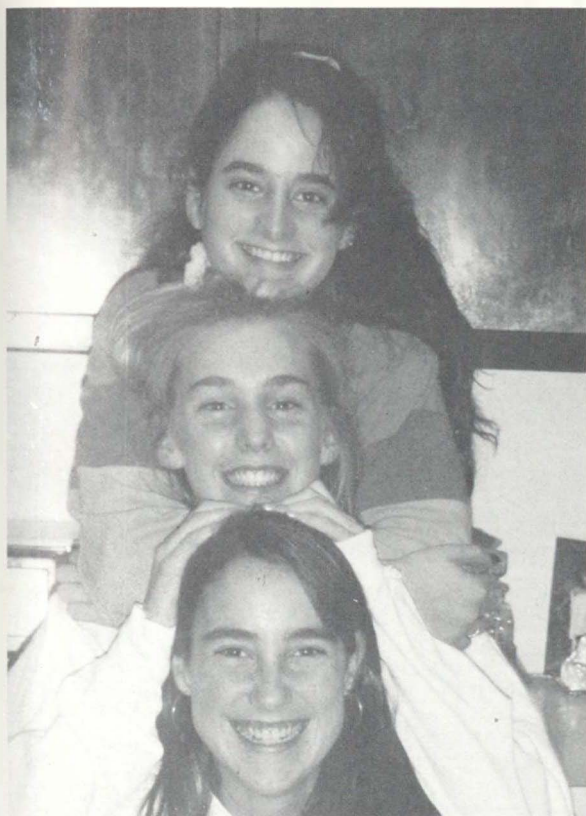

"What am I going to do with my hair?" (Nicole Hirsh, Liv Hegstad)

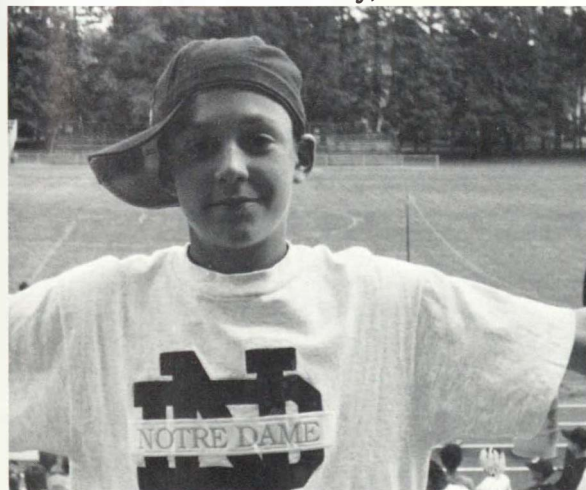

"The gang's all here." (Jason Mullen, Jay Mallowney, Carrie Wollaston, Kim Drew, Heather Welch, Tracy Jolles)

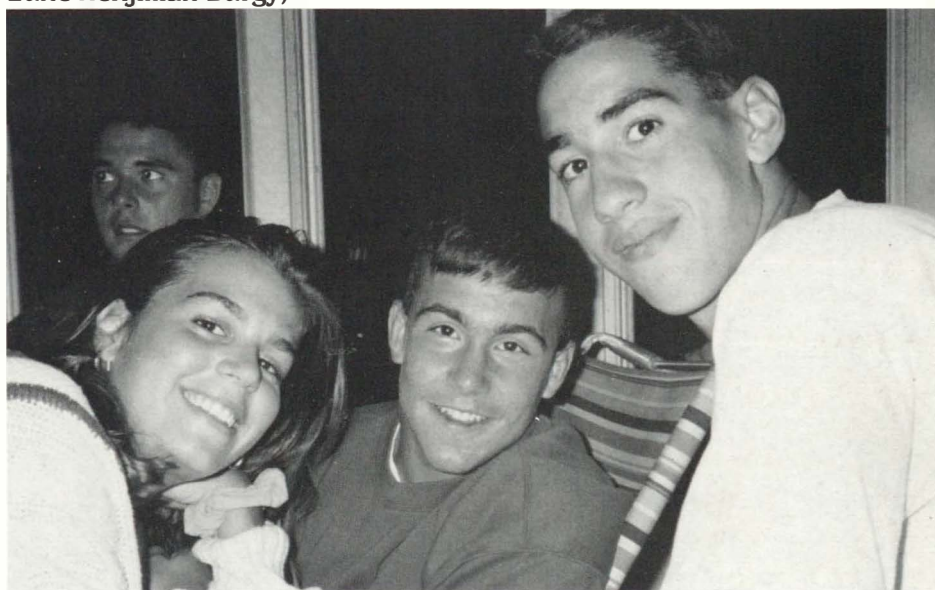

"A Junior Totem Pole" (Lauren Chandler, Kim Drew, Samantha Denby)

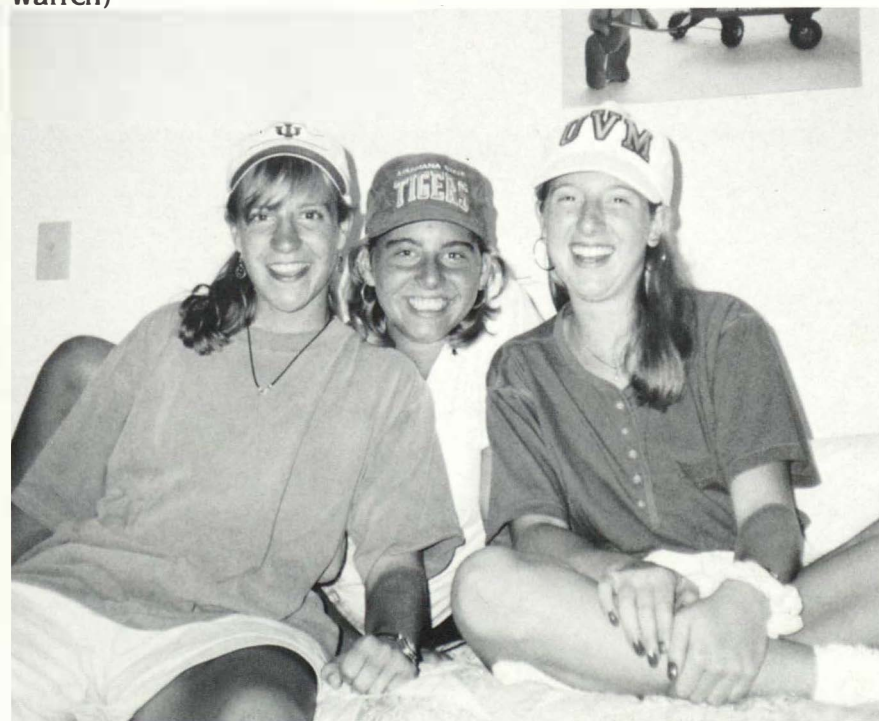

"Future Notre Dame Football Star" (Peter Warren)

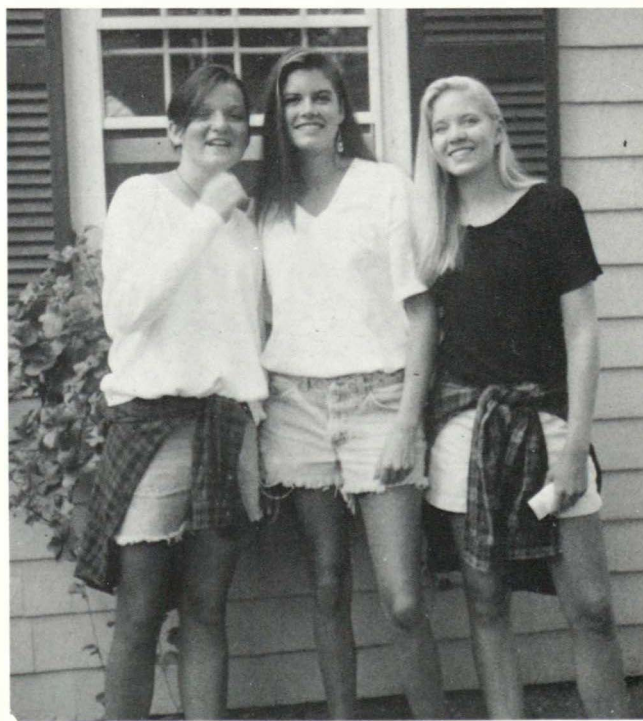

"Yeah, we're SENIORS!" (Dave Maffucchi, Chris Jones, Cory Hollister, Luke Renjillian-Burgy)

"Just hanging out" (Taryn Yataines, Kris Kahn, Sark Renjillian-Burgy)

"Girls' night out" (Meg Steere, Amanda Gerstmayr, Sarah Sperbeck)

"Hot summer nights" (Betsy Carrol, Colin McCormick, Liz Lyman)

HALLOWEEN

Ghosts and goblins swarmed through Wellesley High as the annual Senior Parade ran rampant through shrieking hallways full of frightened on-lookers. Members of the spirited class of '93 assumed various disguises, some of the more noteworthy being the Chiquita banana, the Alice in Wonderland clan, and the Chippendale dancers. The halls overflowed with excited students and equally enthusiastic teachers, all of whom cheered devotedly as the seniors marched by in fine hair-raising form. The entire student body turned out to witness the invasion of aliens and the frantic scurrying of the Five Blind Mice. A colossal success indeed, the parade managed to get everyone psyched for the Halloween night festivities ahead!

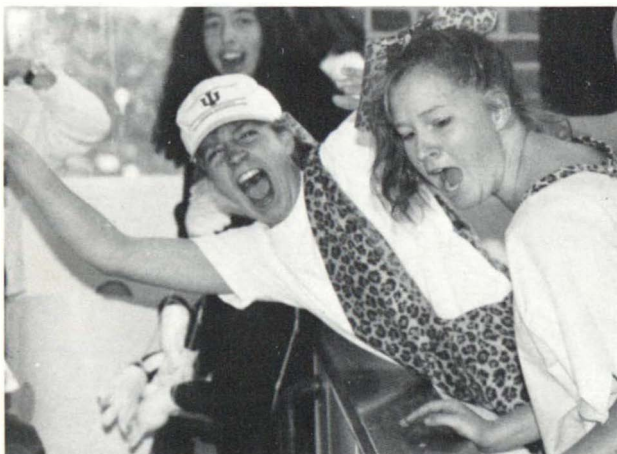

"Morticia drinks her daily dose of blood!" (D. Mahoney)

"Where's the full moon, wolfie?" (Teen Wolf #3)

"The parade gets underway."

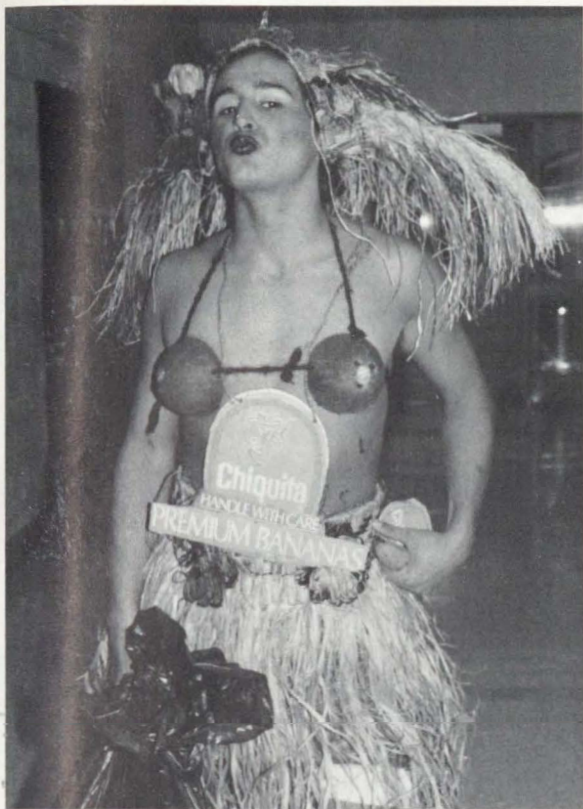

"The cave women search for their prey!" (M. Steere, M. Kennedy)

"Good morning, Miss Haffermehl!" (A. Haffermehl)

"Just another bad hair day!" (T. Heacock)

"Obviously someone forgot the suntan lotion!"

"My, you're looking rather ravishing today, Miss Showstead!" (Scott Showstead)

"Where's Alice?" (K. Becker, K. Torres)

"We enjoy repeatedly beating our heads with spoons!" (C. Kase, D. Rempis, K. Lange)

"Itsy, bitsy spider climbed up the water spout . . ." (N. Zitomersky, N. Shope)

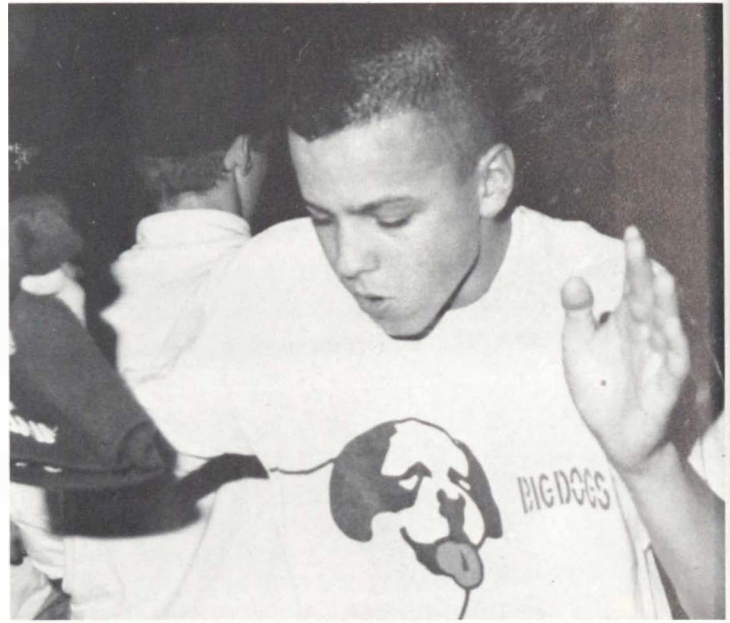

"You know what they say about mushrooms and insects!" (J. Kang, J. Morse)

"RAIDER PRIDE" DANCE

After much controversy, SADD and the peer leadership program were able to convince the administration into allowing us to have a "sober dance." Everyone had a great time especially since they knew they would not normally be able to go out on a school night. The dance went very well and because of its success dances were temporarily brought back to Wellesley High School. All of the proceeds went to the senior class and helped to support their activities in the spring.

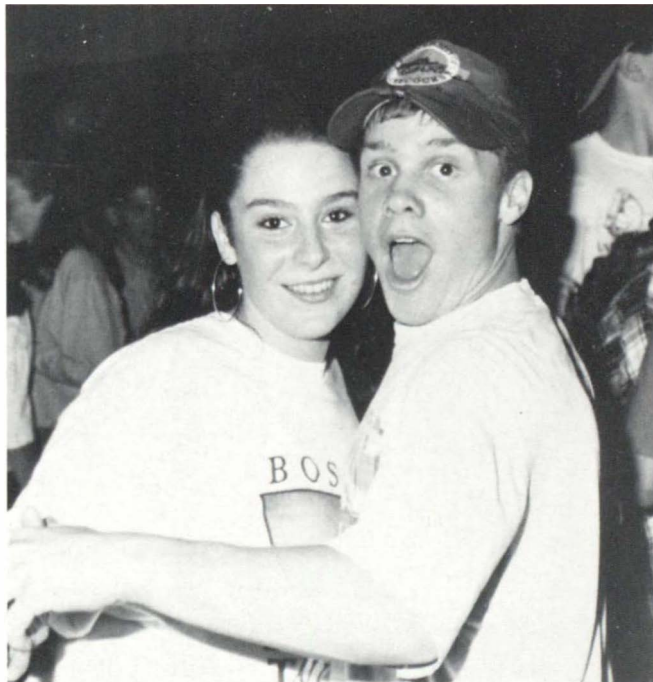

Brendan doing his best. (Brendan Hayes)

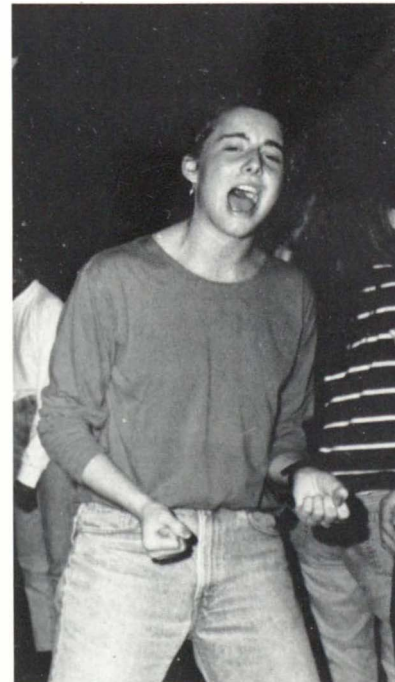

Noah, who are you looking at? (Noah Heller and Jen Kelley)

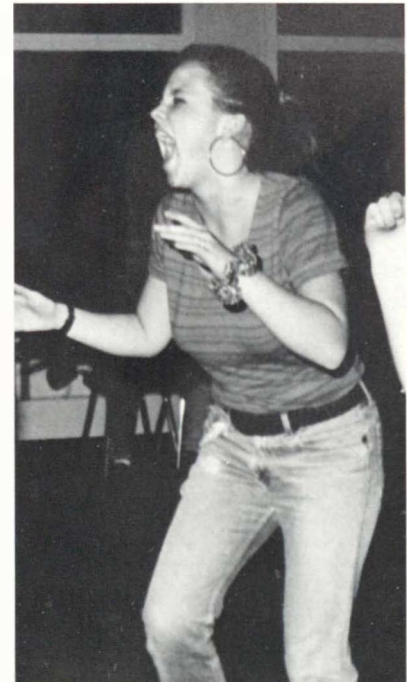

"Dude, did you see that girl?" (Rob Kulch, Eben Sawyer, and Mike Hallett)

"Mom! What are you doing here?" (Pete Joseph and Holly Snyder)

It's okay, Mandy. Andy will be back. (Mandy Gerstmayr)

Watch out, Jesse. Those moves may hurt someone! (Jesse Graham)

PEP RALLY

GO RAIDERS! (Beth Belanger, Janessa Isaacs, Elizabeth Brown)

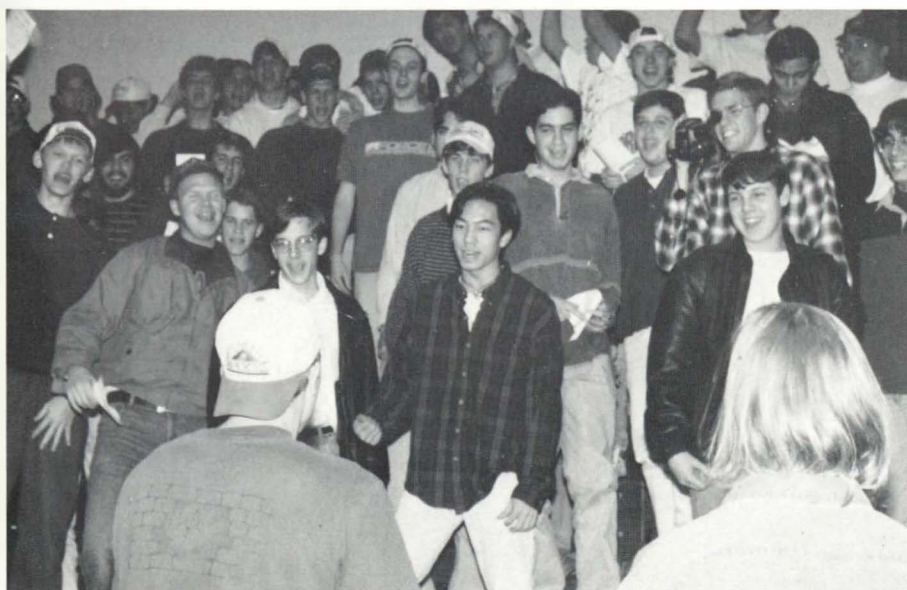

This year's pep rally was a great success despite its uncertain place on the school calendar. The students worked hard to convince the faculty and administration to keep this tradition alive. Once the pep rally got under way, all of the classes demonstrated an abundance of Raider pride. A fabulous performance by the senior women was the highlight as usual. Their cheers and dance routine got the crowd going. Captains representing each of the fall sports briefly summed up their seasons and thanked their dedicated fans. The football team ended the rally with their traditional run through the tunnel of senior women. The Thanksgiving Pep Rally turned out to be an excellent display of school unity and spirit.

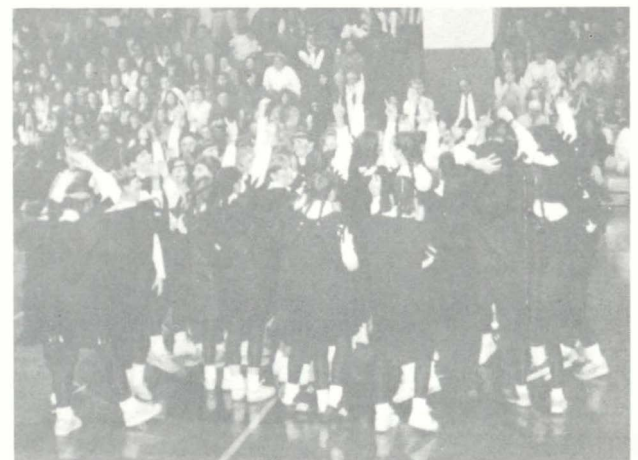

Paul steps up to the mike. (P. Tryon, P. Diamond, K. Kahn)

Shake it up. (S. Rho)

Head cheerleaders Dan and Carlos. (Senior Men)

"Hey Dude, great season." (S. Renjilian-Burgy, M. Cavaliero, D. Ferry)

Allison getting some air. (Allison Rourke)

Buckley runs the gauntlet. (Lee Buckley)

THANKSGIVING DAY FOOTBALL GAME

Nothing keeps a Wellesley fan away. (June Kehoe)

Wellesley ended its regular season with a win over Needham on the traditional Thanksgiving Day game. Their 35-14 victory gave them a 10-0 record and the Bay State League title. Despite the driving rain, a large crowd still gathered. Several injuries did not stifle the team's performance. With this win, Wellesley enhanced their winning record against the Rockets in the nation's oldest rivalry. The bad weather did not prevent the Raiders or their fans from showing their spirit.

He loves publicity. (K. Kahn)

It's goooood! (C. Capobianco, J. Sax)

A little help from his teammates. (R. Cooley, P. Tryon, A. Leggat)

More loyal fans. (A. Dalton, S. Sperbeck, J. Condon)

BYE BYE BIRDIE

This fall's performance of Bye Bye Birdie was a smashing success thanks to a cast of talented actors, a wonderful technical crew and Mr. Platt's multi-talented orchestra. Since September, the cast met daily with the director, Mr. Megan, for rehearsals at the Middle School to bring each performance to perfection. His patience and organization allowed this play to be one of the most successful in Wellesley High's history.

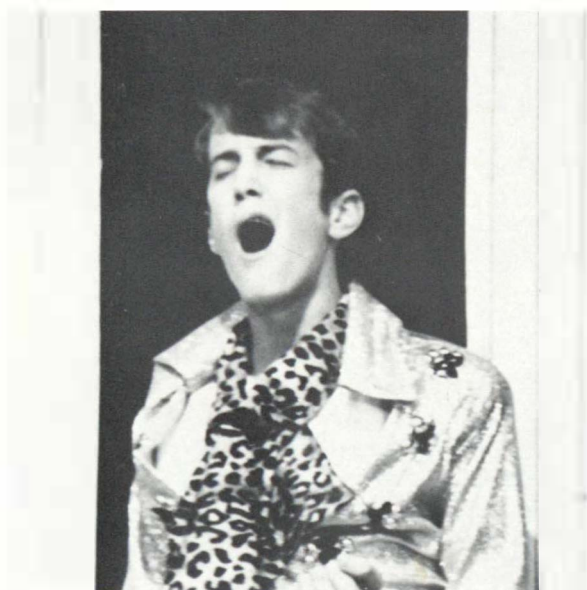

"I lost my contact, nobody movell" (J. Baden, L. Saad, S. Shepsle, S. Tognarelli)

The Tremendous Tech Crew (R. Loehlin, J. Allen, K. Crawford, K. Taylor)

Work it, baby! (Jill Goldberg)

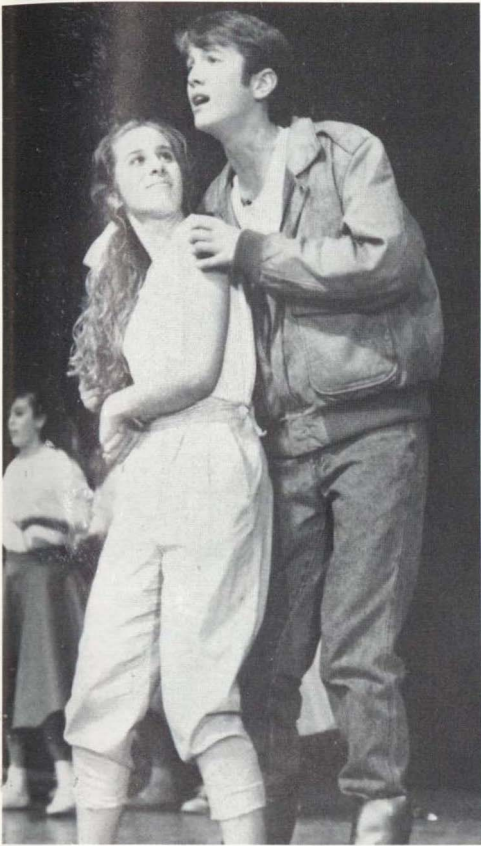

"Ahhh! Good morning!" (Adam Harrington)

"We pledge allegiance the Birdie Fan Club . . ." (S. Tognarelli, A. Art, C. Seebert, A. Falwell)

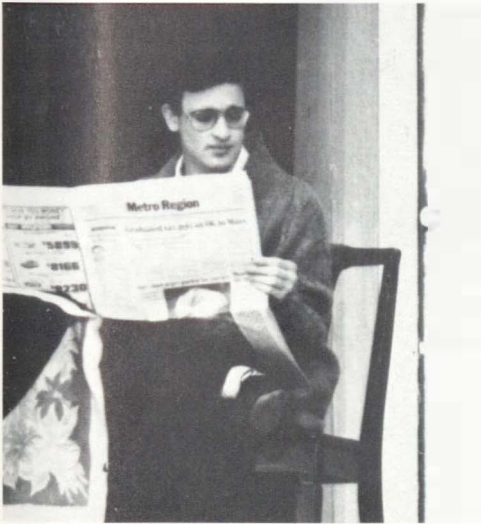

Aren't you glad you used Dial? (Sally Tognarelli, Adam Harrington)

"She had a long night." (A. Falwell, S. Tognarelli, L. Licht, L. MacIntosh, K. Pascucci)

"Just leave me alone!" (Seth Shepsle)

"What's everybody lookin' at?" (The Cast)

"Everything is rosy, now I've got my Rosie" (Eileen McLoughlin, Joel Baden)

Joel, you stud! (Z. Damplo, T. Mongiardo, K. Pascucci, C. Seebert, K. Ottersten, J. Baden)

THE COTILLION

The annual winter Cotillion was originally scheduled for December twelfth but had to be cancelled because of a big snowstorm. Fortunately, the patrons of the Cotillion were able to reschedule it for January first, again at Alumni Hall in Wellesley College. Everyone was glad that it could be rescheduled because it was a lot of fun and definitely worth the wait. A live band played a mixture of contemporary and old music to which students and their dates danced away the night. The doors closed at ten o'clock before which students went out to dinner at a restaurant or enjoyed a home-cooked meal at a friend's house. Open to both public and private school juniors and seniors and their dates, the night brought together a great mixture of people.

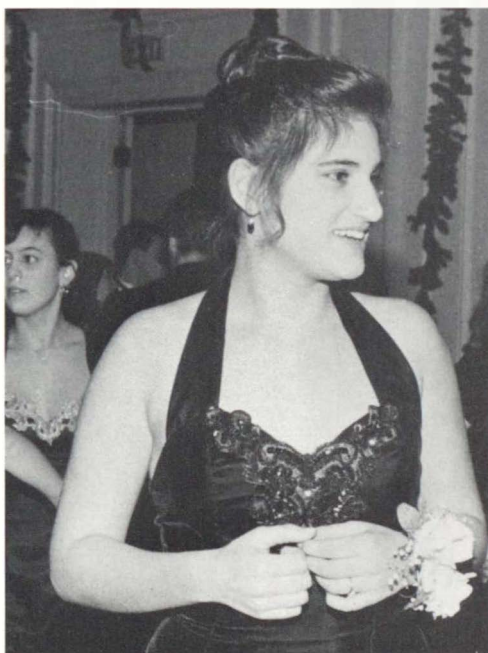

Monica Staaterman is greeted by the patrons. (Monica Staaterman)

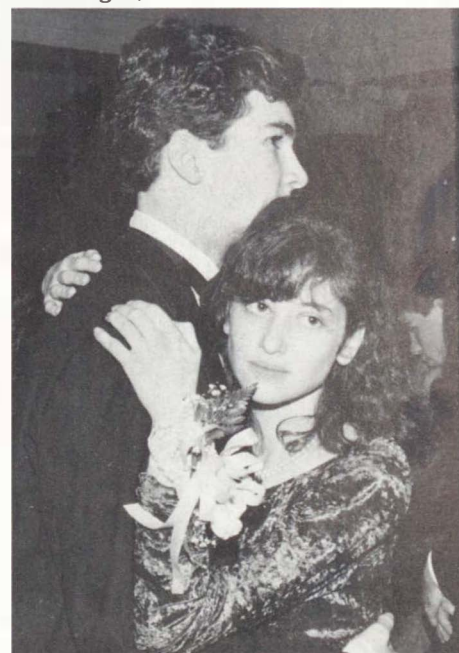

What a happy couple. (Rebecca Chipps and Sean Hogan)

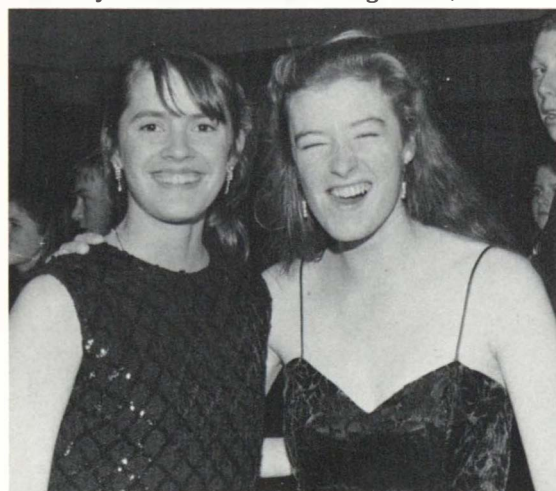

"Kirstin, the camera's over here!" (Amanda Gerstmeyr, Kirstin Staaterman, Meg Steere)

Zoey surveys the dance scene. (Zoey Damplo)

Dance the night away.

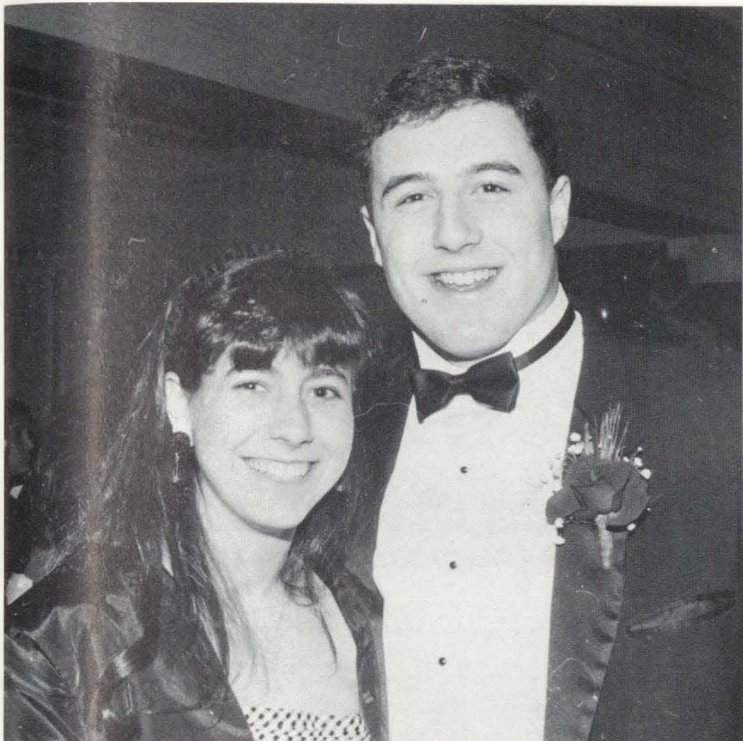

"Dude! Watch that flash man!" (Katie McLaren and Katie Knudson)

"I'm sorry, but no — we don't serve dinner here." (Diane Kaplan, Dan Bradley, Chris Chiappa, Mirela Bergamo, Colleen Palladini and date)

"Hi, I'm Todd and this is my date Mandy." (Mandy Gelberman and Todd Rapp)

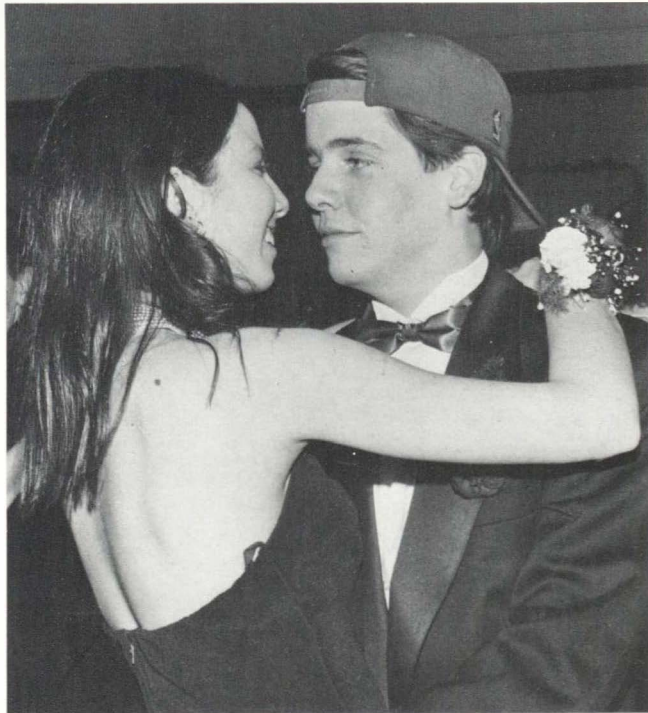

"Watch the birdie." (Megan Mahan, Vanessa Mankes)

"Some enchanted evening..." (Heather Kuske and her New Hampshire man Howie)

Stopping for some refreshments. (Simone Bloomer and Libby Schilpp)

A veritable Kodak moment. (Robin Litster and Jon Soldano)

"Hey, check out that babe over there." (Nigam Shah and Dave Rempis)

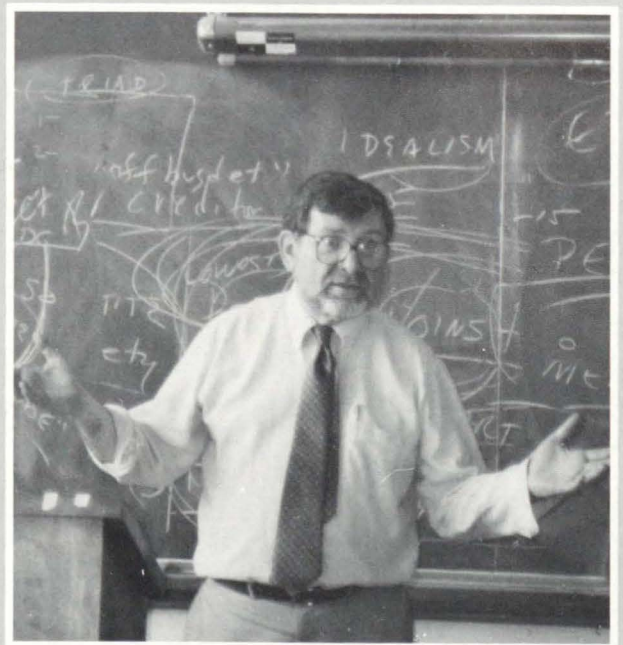

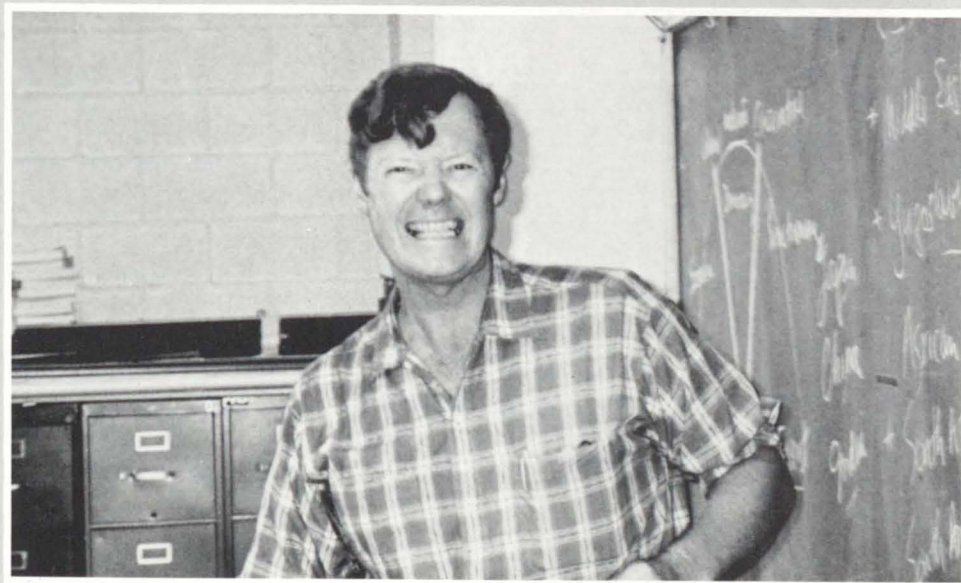

"I'm a party man" (Steve Pollenz)

REST

ADMINISTRATION

Mrs. Hayes had another busy year in the principal's seat, attending multiple meetings and school events. She has been a pivotal figure in the success of this school year.

Vice principals, Mrs. Novogroski and Mr. Vasaturo, have had a great year, despite working around the renovation to the main hall, offices and guidance offices. The main offices have been expanded, redesigned and new carpeting has been laid down. Our two vice principals have continued to be cheerful while enforcing and explaining school rules.

"How ya'll doing?" (Mrs. Novogroski)

"Mr. Vasaturo hard at work."

"I swear, it was really funny." (Mr. Vasaturo)

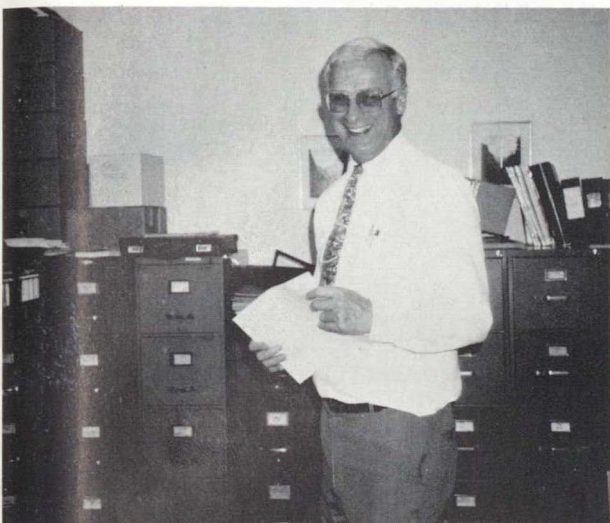

"Mrs. Hayes looking cheerful as ever." (Mrs. Hayes)

"And where are you coming from?" (Mrs. Novogroski)

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Director of Guidance, Mr. Whelahan.

What would we ever do without the Guidance Department of Wellesley High School? From the countless scheduling conflicts, to helping to calm down those who were "stressed to the max" with their classes and school-work, the guidance staff were always there to help out. It's hard to believe what a day at school would have been like without the frenzied students swarming around Mr. Whelahan, Mr. Hughart, Mrs. Gulrich, Mr. Touhey, and Ms. O'Byrne, firing their frustrations and questions at them. The group guidance seminars were great for offering course planning for underclassmen and college advice for the seniors. Even though the Guidance Department had to start off the first few weeks of the year working out of their cramped quarters in the library (which didn't offer much privacy or organization), they were able to handle everything with complete control. By October, the department had moved into its new suite of offices where it continued to provide the assistance required by the student body at WHS.

Mr. Touhey has everything under control.

Mrs. Gulrich leading a freshman guidance seminar.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department, under the direction of Mr. Goddard, had a strong staff of teachers whose interesting and dynamic teaching styles made English a class to look forward to. New to the WHS teaching staff this year was Mrs. Regina Walters. All classes had a basic core curriculum and most students were expected to write a major paper as part of the course completion requirements. Extended use of the Writing Lab was a major aid for students. Teachers introduced computer programs such as journal writing on hypercard to some of their classes. Some seniors had the opportunity of taking Humanities, an interdisciplinary course combining History and English. All the courses in the department were taught in a relaxed atmosphere encouraging open discussion and cooperative learning.

MATH DEPARTMENT

The Math Department, under the direction of Dr. Rumsey, this year has kept up its reputation for excellence. Mrs. O'Rourke and Ms. Morehead were the two new teachers who were welcome additions to the department. Many teachers in this department have started to use computers more frequently in order to help students excel. The teachers were pleased with their new rooms, since they helped to provide them with a positive learning atmosphere. The math curriculum is currently under a review which will last two years. This review will lead to changes in the department for the future.

"DON'T be late for my class!" (Mr. Tiberio)

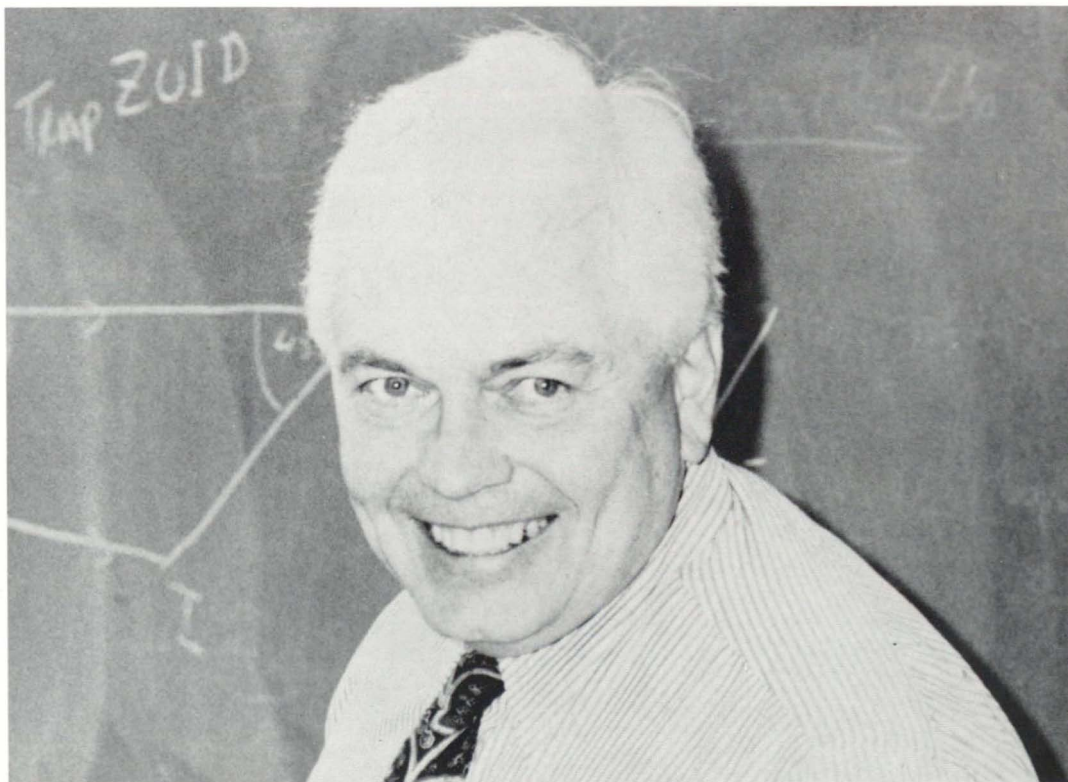

"You can't be serious!" (Mr. Levin)

"Another picture?" (Ms. Morehead)

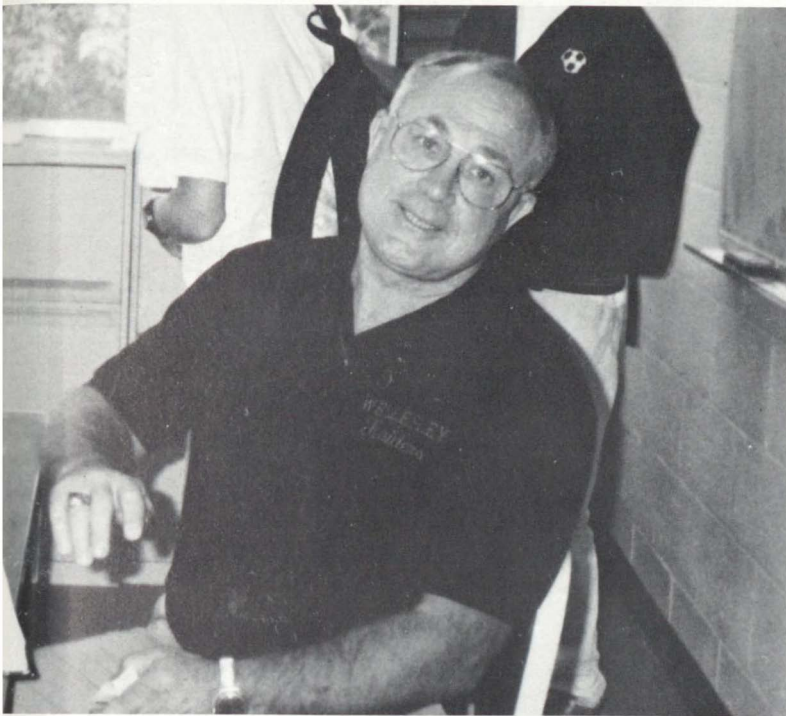

"Not exactly"

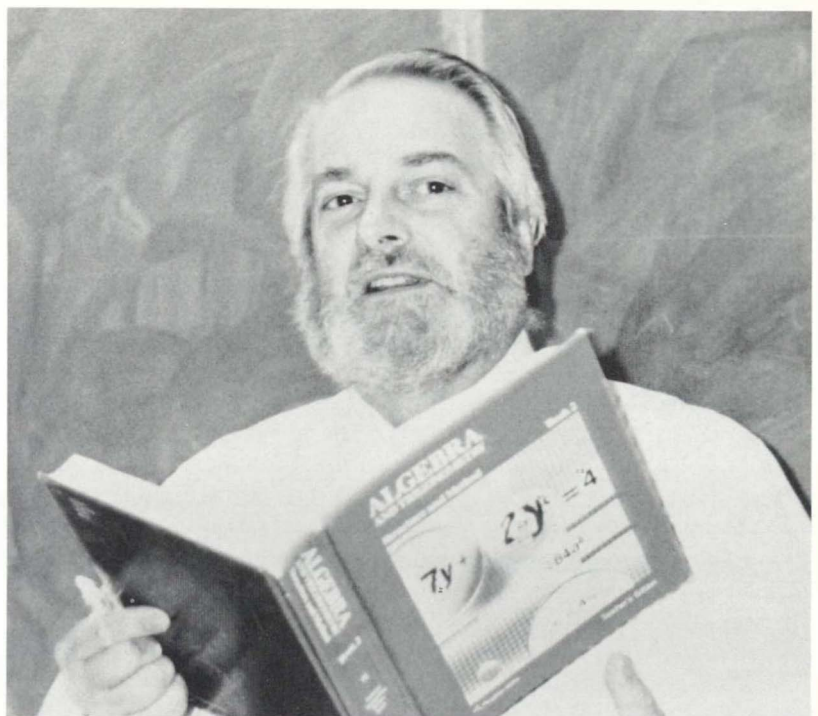

"Why are you so happy Mr. Labome?" (Mr. Labome)

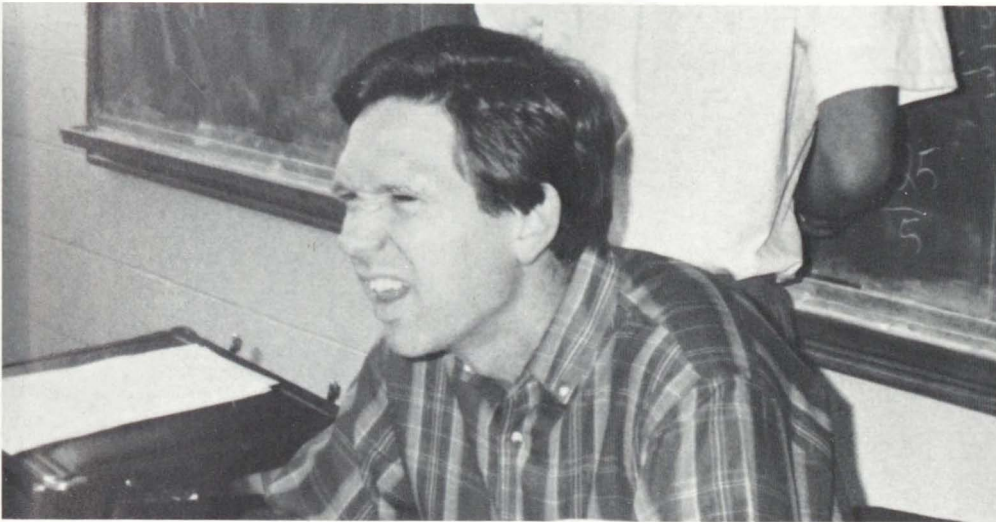

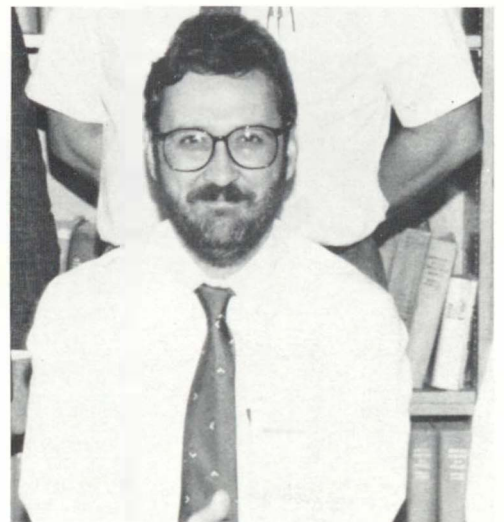

"Not you again" (Mr. Tripp)

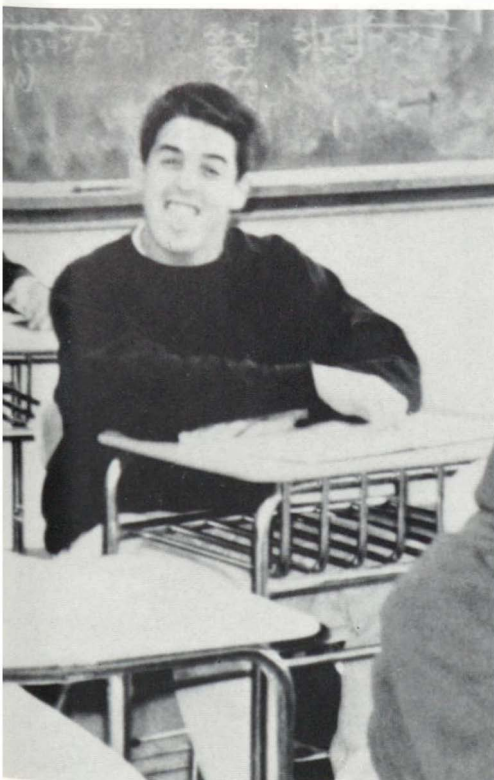

"What is the answer to number one?" (Mr. Edson)

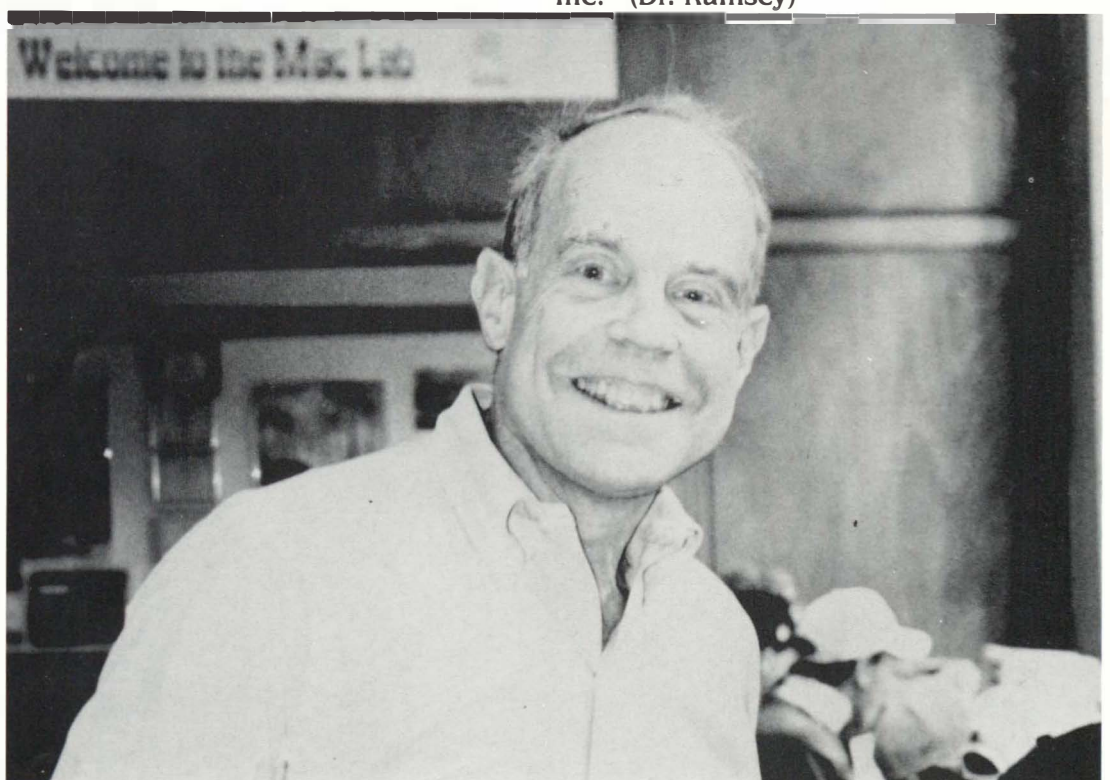

"Who is that?" (Mr. Craig)

"I love it when people take pictures of me!" (Dr. Rumsey)

"Pay attention Steve!" (Steve Pollenz)

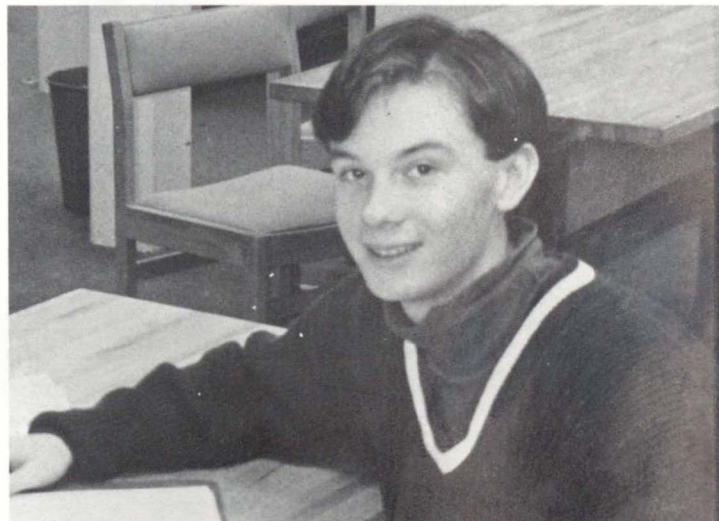

"Any questions?" (Mr. Barr)

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Department had another good year. With Mr. Whitbeck as department head, everything went smoothly once again. Mr. Hamilton had no troubles filling the shoes of Mr. Campbell, who retired last year. With the presidential elections taking place this year, there were plenty of current events for everyone. This was especially true for Mr. Murphy who had a political field day during the campaign. The new curriculum at the freshman and sophomore levels was a success once again. All the Social Studies teachers had a successful year despite all the renovations.

SCIENCE

This year's already comprehensive Science Department has implemented a new Earth Science program in which the freshman students studied Astronomy, Geology, Meteorology, and Oceanography. Next year the Science Department plans on introducing a new Biology program for juniors. The annual Science Fair was as usual a big success. The Science Department has had an extremely productive year.

"Since when is Biology spelled . . . Bi-alowge?" (Mr. Boston)

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

This year, the Foreign Language Department continued successfully with a few changes. The Latin program was expanded from about 80 students to more than 100. As a result, a second Latin teacher, Miss Moore, was added to the program. Also, Mrs. DiGiandomenico taught classes at WHS and at the Middle School. Mr. Droney left the High School and taught at the Middle School. As a part of the renovations, a new, advanced language lab was built. This further enabled students to work on the spoken and listening aspects of foreign language. With exchange programs and communication with foreign students through modems and letters, the Foreign Language Department truly made learning not only easier, but more enjoyable.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AND TECHNOLOGY DEPARTMENT

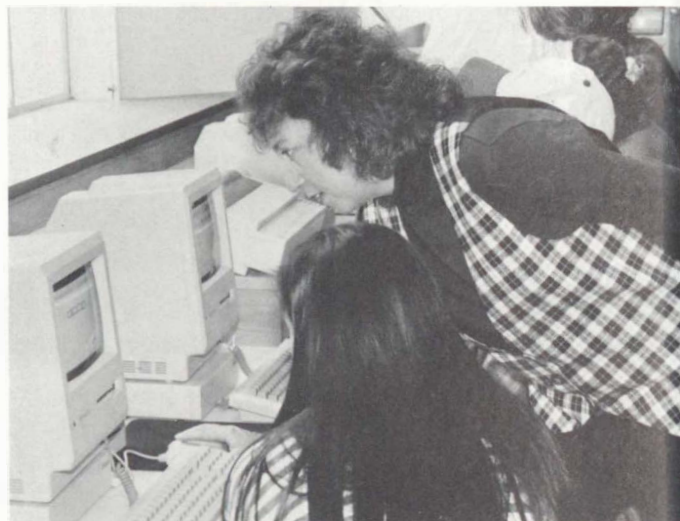

The Business Administration and Technology Department, under the direction of Mr. Vasaturo, instructed students in courses designed to be useful in the future.

Business Administration classes, taught by Mrs. Lord, had corporate sponsors from Harvard Community Health and New England Telephone. These Business Administration classes started a business, selected products, and sold them in order to obtain a profit for their companies.

Mrs. Ostrer directed the student retail lab, Copell's Campus Treasures, where classes learned about marketing and retailing. Mrs. Dixon instructed students in the latest techniques combining writing and publishing in the Creative Writing and Desktop Publishing Course.

Mrs. Goodman served as the Computer Room Coordinator.

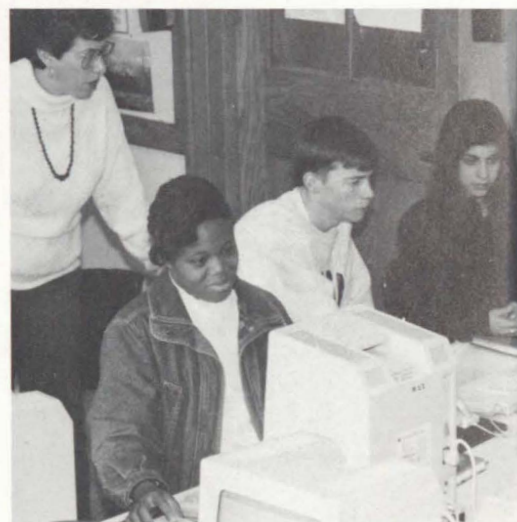

Other courses taught in this department included Keyboarding, Computer As A Tool, and Accounting. Each of the instructors, working with the technology available at Wellesley High School, was helping the students reach into the future of the business world. They introduced the students to the newest technology and beyond...

SPECIAL SERVICES

Taking a rest. (Kate Wahlig)

Under the direction of the new department head, David Gotthelf, Special Services offered services for students with special needs. The department consisted of four psychologists, five special education teachers, an occupational therapist, and a speech and language pathologist. They worked closely with students who wanted help with academics. With this program students had the success and achievements that they desired.

PERFORMING ARTS

The Performing Arts Department, under the direction of Dr. Nicolucci, had another incredible year. Bye Bye Birdie was an amazing production thanks to a very talented cast and the patience and organization of Mr. Megan. The Rice Street Singers, Brooks Brothers, Song Sisters and the Concert Choir presented two outstanding winter concerts led by Ms. Wightman. In these concerts, Mr. Platt directed his multi-talented band. Drama also did well in the yearly drama festival, in which many schools competed with one act plays. All in all, the Performing Arts Department has continued its goal to involve as many students from Wellesley High School as possible.

Play it again, Janet, Sarah, Josh and James. (Janet Nackoney, Sarah Dinwoodey, Josh Sherman, and James Richardson)

The maestro at work. (Ms. Wightman)

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The Home Economics Department provided exciting opportunities for developing practical skills, nurturing creative talents and understanding child development through its courses in sewing, cooking, fitness and child care. Aspiring chefs once again had a chance to study international cooking and manage their own Culinary Arts Cafe. The sewing classes created their own fashions. The ever popular Child Lab, with both morning and afternoon classes, gave more students than ever the chance to share the joys of the world of the preschooler while gaining an understanding of how children learn. Ms. Ritter, Mrs. Gorman, and Mrs. St. Germain continued to work hard to make this department a creative learning environment.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY

Beginners in the Industrial Technology program learned drafting skills with pencil and paper. Students also became familiar with the use of IBM RT computers located in the Industrial Tech room. More advanced students had the opportunity to compete in architectural programs or MIT competitions. Some of the students in the Industrial Tech program were working with robots and MIT's Artificial Intelligence program. In this program, students applied science and math concepts to hands on activities and used English skills in writing reports about their projects. The Industrial Tech program constantly grows as it builds upon work done in past years.

"Why don't we just build a robot?" (I. Rideout, J. Hayman)

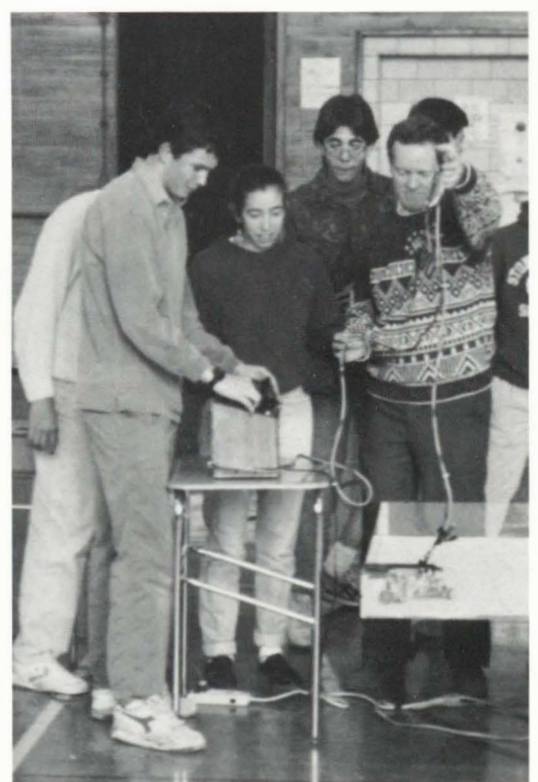

"Let me show you how this thing works." (A. Patterson, Mr. MacAleer)

"QXR 40 xt 30. That should work."

The ever popular Sumo Car competition. (C. Chiappa, N. Zitomersky, N. Genes, Mr. Boston)

LIBRARY

Although the library was disrupted at the beginning of the year because of the construction taking place within the school, the librarians worked hard to make it a productive place. With their constant reminder to keep quiet, it was possible for students to go to the library and get work done. If you ever needed help, the librarians were always available. At the beginning of the year, the librarians were busy at work trying to install a new data-base system which replaced the reader's guides. Under the direction of Ms. Birlem, the library continued to be a great source of reference for all of the students' needs.

Wait, how does this machine work?? (Mrs. Donahue)

We've got to finish this before next period! (Andy Mulkerin, Molly Russell)

Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Keefe pose for a picture.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Am I getting an A? (Mr. Mastro)

Usually, I'm smiling! (Mrs. Poitras)

Some of us may have thought that, due to construction, there'd be "No Gym Class!!!", and we would sit around, chat and do nothing. Not so. Cleverly working around temporary locker and worker problems, our P.E. staff came up with better ideas: constructive reasoning activities for seniors and field games for underclassmen. Our senior students braved their gym class, struggling with mind boggling mental and physical tasks. Only seniors could possibly endure a 25-person lap sit and solve the problem of getting two men across a river with only one boat. This year, the underclassmen found amusement in a completely new program. They were challenged with sports such as horseshoes, croquet and bocce ball. Even though normal gym classes eventually resumed, Mr. Loiter, Mrs. Poitras, and Mr. Mastro worked especially hard to provide us with the most recreational and original classes ever . . . and we didn't even need to change!

What a great day! (Mr. Loiter)

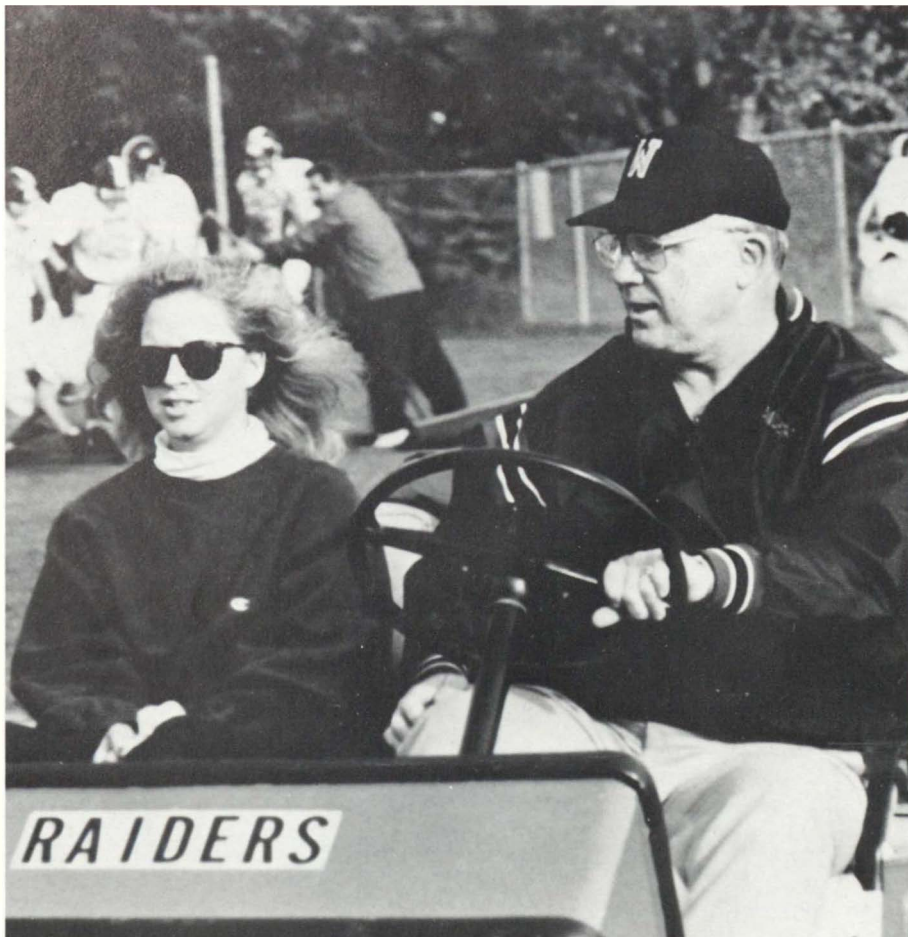

Ready, aim, fire!!!

What's so interesting over there? (K. Miller, S. Rudders)

ATHLETICS

Mr. Tripp and Meghan go for a ride. (Mr. Tripp, Director of Athletics, M. Kennedy)

Where's your user fee? (Mrs. Mitchell, secretary to Mr. Tripp)

Where does it hurt? (Patty Hickey, Trainer and L. Buckley)

SUPPORT STAFF

Mrs. Miller, our school nurse and valued member of our support staff was always there for students and faculty in need of health care.

We certainly are lucky to have such an experienced crew in our cafeteria. With the continuation of Mark's pizza, Deli Bar, and the introduction of a salad bar, a pasta bar, and a taco bar, this year's staff put together a great combination of interesting lunches. Through rain, or snow, or sleet, or hail, our staff managed to feed all of us. Thanks for the great eats.

Where would we have been this year without our custodians? They provide the students with a clean learning environment. This year they also had the added responsibility of dealing with the ongoing renovations. We thank them.

Mrs. Miller, School Nurse

Talking up a storm. (Joyce Calzini)

I have a yummy surprise for you! (Charlotte Kaufman)

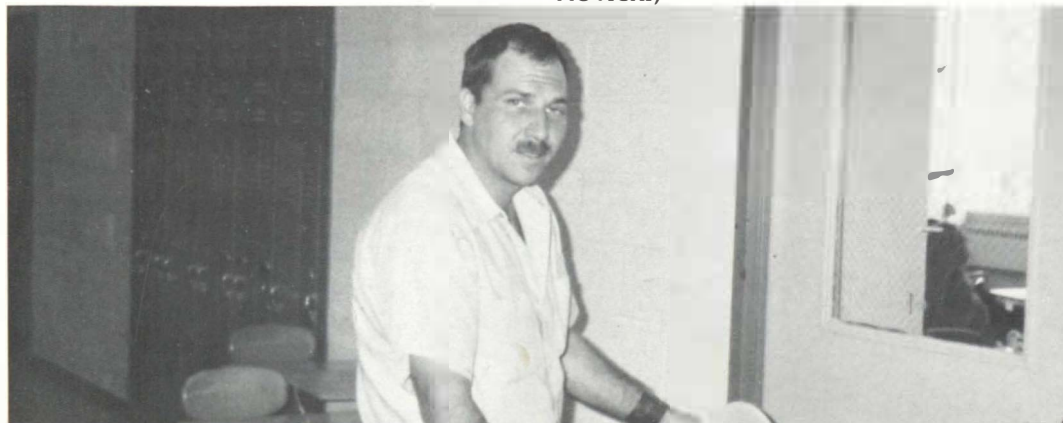

We have all sorts of goodies today! (Joan Flaherty)

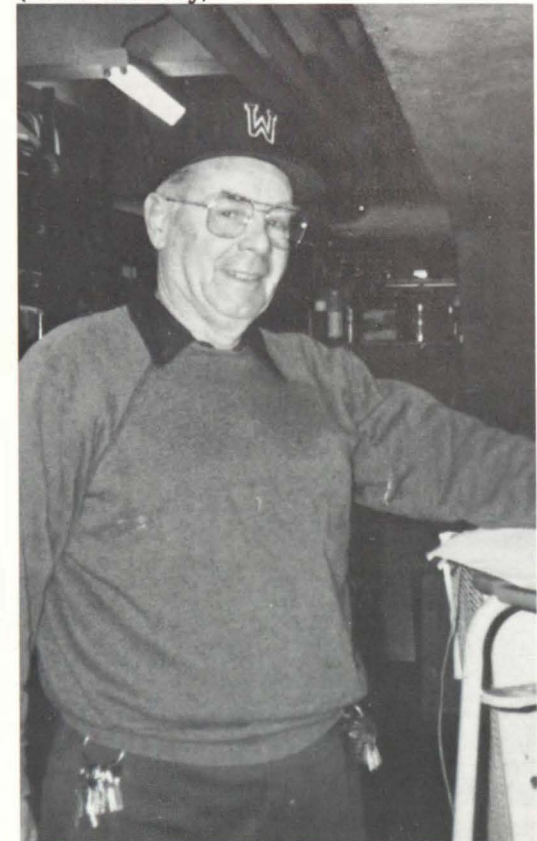

Smile for the camera! (Patsy DeLuca)

And who are you talking to!? (Jerry Novicki)

Always working! (Larry Pelligrini)

Hurry up, I can't hold this pose for long!

Yep! I polished that myself! (Mrs. Dorsey)

OFFICE STAFF

This year's office staff experienced a new way of life as they were forced to move into the library. Mrs. Coughlin, Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Leverone, Mrs. Demetrius, Mrs. Dorsey, and Mrs. Donohue were able to cope with the change in location that was caused by the construction on the school. In October, they moved into the newly renovated main office. As usual, the office staff was very effective and helpful in meeting the needs of the student body and the staff.

Looking beautiful behind her computer! (Mrs. Donahue)

Can't you see that I am trying to work! (Mrs. Leverone)

What's the excuse this time!? (Mrs. Coughlin)

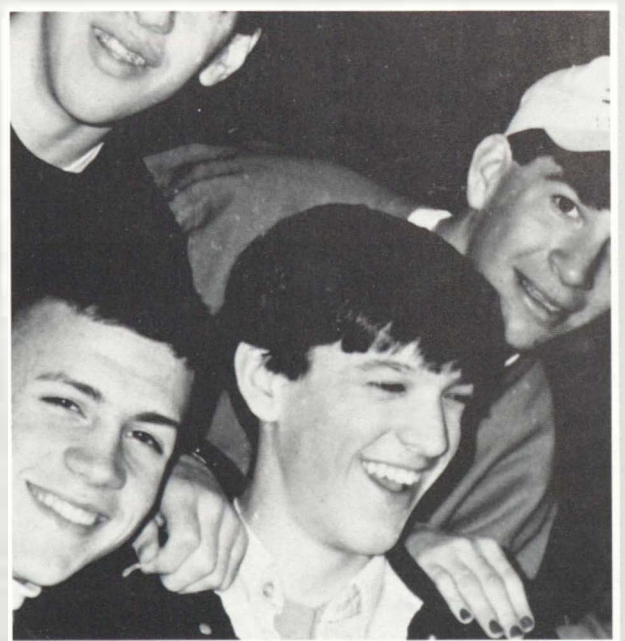

Hard at work, like always. (Mrs. Donohue)

In Memory of Matthew G. Jong
April 13, 1975-October 5, 1991

The magic of life only stays so long
 When it is gone there is a need to be strong
 For though our special friend is gone,
 He is happy when we are happy
 Thus, we must all work hard to move on.

STARS

UNDERCLASS OFFICERS

This year, the junior class was led by Valerie Velez, Shep Maher, Anne Faubert, and Justin Stokes. Their main fundraiser was selling wrapping paper, and it was a huge success. In late winter they had a ski trip. Everyone strutted their stuff at the Valentine's Dance.

Megan Reilly, Sofia Stanley, Jennifer Eng, and Robb Moore worked hard to make the sophomores' year a good one. They collected pennies to help people with A.I.D.S., held a dance in February, and planned activities for the spring.

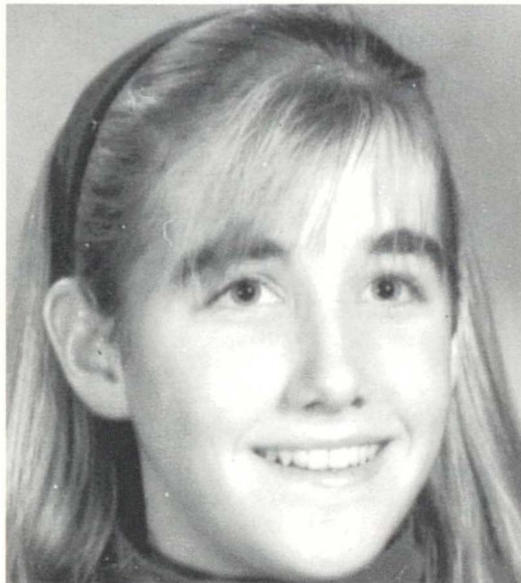

Besides holding an auction, participating in the Hardy School Flea Market and the track meet, the officers of the class of '96 raised money for the people devastated by the hurricane in Florida. Brian Bachman, Michael Hendricks, Kim Jones, and Dermot Carey kept the freshmen busy with great activities.

The varsity Girls' Volleyball Team had a great season finishing with an overall record of seven wins and nine losses. A rebuilding year for Wellesley, the team worked hard and surprised everyone by beating the number one team in the division. Led by coach Bill Toffling and senior tri-captains Julie Dulude, Janelle Crowley, and Antigone Papageorgiou, both the varsity and the junior varsity teams had a lot of spirit and support for each other. Both teams worked together really well on the court packing the season full of intense matches and exciting plays. Assistant coach, Ms. Melissa Pineo, headed the JV team which had a very successful season and showed a lot of promising talent for next year.

FIELD HOCKEY

When the women of the 1992 Raider Field Hockey team assembled in the hot August sun to begin their pre-season practice, expectations for a successful year were almost believable. Led by senior captain Naamah Zitomersky, the squad forged ahead in hopes of improving last year's disappointing season. Hindered by a slow-developing offense, the Raider's defense became a bastion of strength. Working hard to improve their attacking strategy, the strength of their play quickly became a threat to such formidable contenders as Norwood, Walpole, and Milton. The absence of four key seniors on the field hockey squad will be keenly felt, but the Raiders are optimistic for continued success.

This year's Boys' Soccer team was looking for a successful season to follow up last year's state championship team. Rookie coach G. T. Wright put together a successful season. Senior captains Dan Ferry and Sark Renjilian-Burgy and Junior captain Mark Cavaliero were effective in leading the team to an admirable record. Injuries plagued the team in the early season as Eben Sawyer (shin splints) and ace back Tim Rogers (two broken bones) were benched. Midway through the season, the Raiders were in first place in the Bay State Herget division and were ranked fourth in Division 2. Although their season didn't look promising after three bad scrimmages during preseason, the Boys' Soccer Team was able to put everything together and complete another successful season in the Bay State League.

Once again, the Wellesley Girls' Swim Team had a very successful season. From the start, the team was strong because of the contributions of the new freshmen and sophomores. Although we lost two of our competitive divers, we gained three beginners who improved tremendously. The team was led by coaches Bill Sullivan and Cynthia Kangos and Co-Captains Margaret Reiley and Beth Belanger. From their constant encouragement, the girls learned that hard work definitely pays off. Throughout the season, there were many wins and consistent spirit. The group successfully competed in both the sectional and state meets. Although the season was hard work, the team had a lot of fun.

This past year's Golf Team record might not look too impressive — 1 win, 12 losses, but it's not whether you won or lost, but how you played the game. Wellesley High School's Golf Team definitely had their share of great rounds of golf. Led by Coach Jon Hamilton and team captains Mike Hallett and Dave Rempis, the team had great fun competing against other teams and being able to play at other golf courses. With half the starters being freshmen, the future looks hopeful for the team.

Tri-captains Kris Kahn, Paul Tryon and Peter Diamond led the 1992 Wellesley High School Football team to an unprecedented Super Bowl victory. Despite the snow, the Raiders defeated Lincoln-Sudbury, 14 to 13, to claim the Division IIB Super Bowl Title. The team ended its season with a perfect record of 11-0. The sixteen returning seniors carried the team through its undefeated season, as well as a victory over long time rival, Walpole High School. After 23 years of hard work and determination the Raiders finally put the Rebels in their place. Congratulations to Coach Levin and to all the members of the 1992 team who changed the history of Wellesley High School football.

WINTER SPORTS

Captains Kelley Hurley and Tonya Smythwick

The 1993 Winter cheerleaders

The Wellesley cheerleading squad had another great year. The seniors included Kelley Hurley, Tonya Smythwick, Elizabeth Hatch, and Tenneysa Hughes. Both the fall coach, Nancy McDonald, and the winter coach, Marcia Ritter, worked hard with the cheerleaders to cheer on the successful Raider football and basketball teams.

"We are jumping . . ."

Coach Fay and Captain Susan Martin

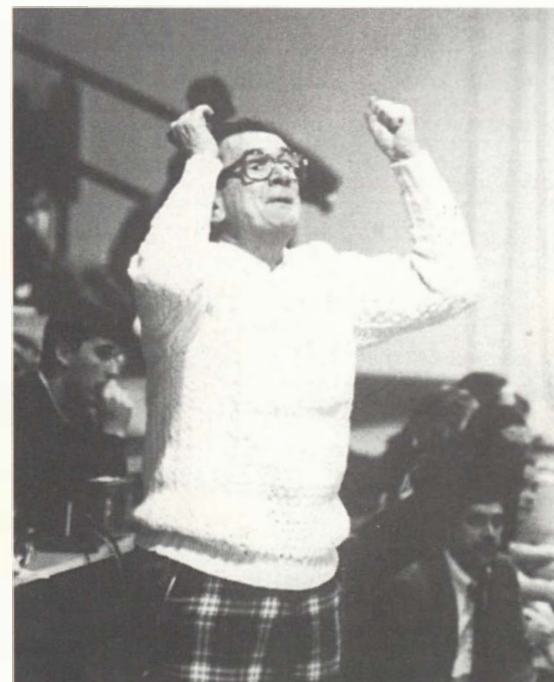

With returning coach, Mr. Fay, the Raiders got off to a tough start with many disappointing losses. The team was led by senior captain, Susan Martin. Being one of the toughest leagues in the state, the Bay State League provided the Raiders with intense competition. The first year players, Jen Fitzgibbons, Eileen Joy, Megan Rogers, Liz Chiappa, Marissa Baker, and Amy Haffermehl were pleasant surprises to the line-up. Carolyn Nesbit, Marya Moore, Carrie Wollaston, and Merrie Hatch were able to step up when needed. The Raiders will graduate only four seniors this year. The team can look forward to successful seasons in the upcoming years with the talent of many underclassmen.

ROGERS!

The 1992-93 Raider Ball Club

The Raider Boys' Basketball team, coached by Mr. Dukeshire, had a successful season landing a berth in the state tournament. Competition in the Bay State League was fierce, but under senior captains Paul Tryon and Dan Godrick, the Raiders were up to the challenge. With the consistent shooting of Colin Cooney and solid performances from juniors Quentin Walsh, Joe Mullaney and Colin Capobianco, the Raiders finished the year with thirteen wins and seven losses.

Hey, Coach! Whatcha got there?

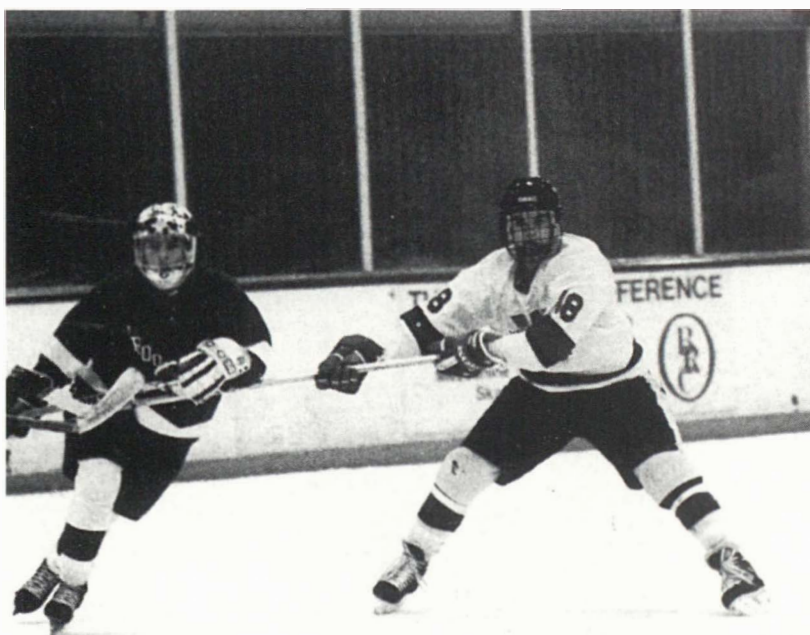

Despite posting a disappointing 0-17-1 record, the varsity hockey team, coached by Mr. Horack, had many bright spots in the 1992-1993 campaign. Everyone enjoyed the opportunity to play and the younger skaters look forward to next season. Sophomore Dave Maxwell was a stand-out underclassman, leading the team in scoring. Graduating seniors and co-captains, Dave Hoffman and Jeremy Parker, earned All-star status. Seniors Alex Patterson and Ian Fitzpatrick made their opponents work hard for a win, while the bone-crunching hits of Randy Stewart and Todd Rapp reminded teams that Wellesley was a force with which to be reckoned.

Wellesley's skiers under Coach Poitras finished off their 1993 season strong. Their cross-country ski team was led by Junior Captain Carolyn Hall while the other captain, Philip Geha, contributed greatly as well. The team practiced twice a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the local Blue Hills. This team saved one of its best performances for last, finishing second in the final meet of the season. Overall the team improved greatly and ended with a good finish.

The 1992-93 Wellesley Girls' Gymnastics Team was coached by Mr. Toffling and Mr. Redmon. Led by senior co-captains Kristie Gackenhimer and Liv Hegstad, the team had another successful season. The Raiders went 10-2 in the regular season, winning the Bay State Conference for the second year in a row. In the South Sectionals, the Raiders came in a close but disappointing second place. The girls also placed an impressive fifth in the Massachusetts state meet. Highlights this season included Molly Russell capturing the South Sectional and B.S.C. all-around titles, Kristie Gackenhimer sweeping both the B.S.C. and Massachusetts Senior Gymnast of the Year awards, and Liv Hegstad, Katie McLaren, and Susie Rudders receiving all-star status in the Bay State Conference. The squad this year consisted of many talented underclassmen, all of whom will be back for another successful season next year.

Claudia Solari pushes herself towards a victory.

Through the rain and snow of the cold winter months, the Wellesley High School girl's track team came through and was quite successful. Although the team suffered many defeats, with the strength and power of the team members, they were able to achieve a lot of personal victories. Junior captain Tara Hanlon, numerous "freshman newcomers," and other devoted track members pushed through the season to attain their success. Among others, Claudia Solari, the freshman star, broke many records and played a vital role on the team. Congratulations to Girl's Indoor Track!

SUPERBOWL

History was made on December 5, 1992, when the Wellesley Raiders clinched the Division 2B title. Never has such an event taken place in Wellesley. The crowds gathered from Wellesley and surrounding communities trying to see through the snow. Having proven their mastery of the elements during the Needham game on Thanksgiving, the Raiders were confident and unbeatable. The game went down to the last second, when over-zealous fans stormed the field to congratulate the new champions.

DIVISION 2B CHAMPS

Our aquatic senior men (Colin Greineder, Scott Kocher, Alex Burdenko)

The 1992-1993 season marked the return of boys' swimming to WHS after a one year hiatus due to lack of interest. Fresh and excited at the chance to compete in the Bay State League once again, the Raiders started preseason practice optimistically. As the season progressed, it became evident the young Raiders would be in for a rebuilding-type year. The season did mark some great personal accomplishments by Co-Captains Colin Greineder and Scott Kocher. With many underclassmen returning, the future looks very bright for the young Raiders.

MATH TEAM

This year's Math team was small but successful. Led by seniors Luke Burns and Adam Cohen, the team did exceptionally well in competition. Competition included traveling to neighboring schools and taking various types of math quizzes. Mr. Edson, Math team advisor, expects continued success and a growing interest next year.

ABC PROGRAM

All smiles and hugs (Danielle Beckford, Vanessa Martir)

Danielle Beckford

The ABC program is a chapter of National A Better Chance, a non profit organization to increase the number of well-educated minority students. This year seven students qualified for the program from all different backgrounds and ages. The students included Tiffany Lopez (freshman), Danielle Beckford (freshman), Valerie Valez (junior), Krystal Locke (sophomore), Meesha Outerbridge (sophomore), Vanessa Martir (senior), and Ana De Los Santos (junior). The ABC program has been very successful, for both the students involved and the resident students of Wellesley.

SADD

This year's SADD organization under the guidance of Mrs. Miller, played an active role in getting the point across that drinking and driving is a serious problem. Among the many activities was the paper chain they constructed with the name of each student in the school on it that hangs in the cafeteria. SADD also co-sponsored the sober Thanksgiving Dance as well as the dance that was held in February. Stickers and ribbons were also given out by SADD on Thanksgiving Day. SADD also proved to be helpful in providing speakers for seminars during the three day conference. Senior President of SADD Daphne Mahoney, junior Vice President Lauren Chandler, junior Secretary Kim Drew, and junior Treasurer Noah Heller along with Program Advisor Greg Furie were among the contributors to the SADD organization.

METCO

Metropolitan Council for Educational Opportunity — is a program that gives inner city kids the opportunity to get a better education. The students travel from many parts of Boston every day to school. The Metco program begins in kindergarten and finishes with graduation from high school. The director of the program is Mrs. Alexandria DeLoatch-Pearson. Ms. Maria Bowens is the Multicultural Curriculum Specialist at Wellesley High.

"Hurry up and take the picture, we're hungry!" (Natasha Leak, Shemeka Boylorn, Sharie Wilkie)

EARTH CLUB

The president lending a hand. (N. Zitomersky)

The Earth Club was very successful in its crusade for a better world this year. All of the members worked hard to do their part in making our school more environmentally aware. The recycling boxes placed in each classroom helped to solve the problem of the abundance of paper used and disposed of each day at Wellesley High School. We thank the Earth Club for all of their efforts and concerns.

Happy environmentalists. (Earth Club members)

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

Sporting team shirts emblazoned with the white olympic torch and shield encircled against a field of red, they're just like all the other school athletes, spending equal, if not more, time preparing for competitive matches. But these decathletes are exercising brain more than brawn: they're members of the Wellesley High School Academic Decathlon Team, more commonly referred to as "ACADEC." Every year the material studied is organized around a central theme; this year the topic was "A Diversity of Achievers," from Sandra Day O'Connor to Yoyo Ma. Led by Senior co-captains Nick Genes and Sue Priver, the team won numerous medals in each of their competitions. With Juniors, Erica Larschan, Rahmi Sohani, Dave Shea, and Avi Venkataraman on the team this year, there are high expectations that they will lead the team to repeated success next year.

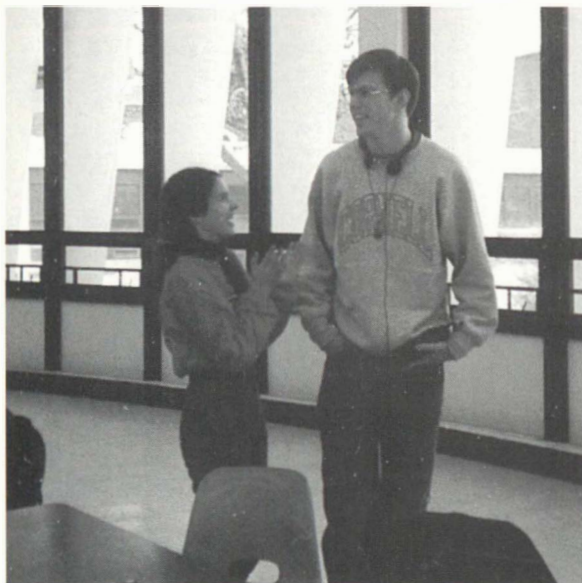

"Look at those smiling Academicians!"

"Brainfood!" (T. Wensink, N. Genes, E. McLoughlin, E. Brown, J. Murphy, M. Gleason)

"On three . . . ready, BREAK!" (B. Daly, E. Larschan, A. Cohen, N. Genes)

"Oh Dave, everyone has these pre-meet cold feet." (E. Larschan, D. Negro)

"All right, you trip him and I'll deal him the finishing blow to the head!" (R. Sohani, N. Genes)

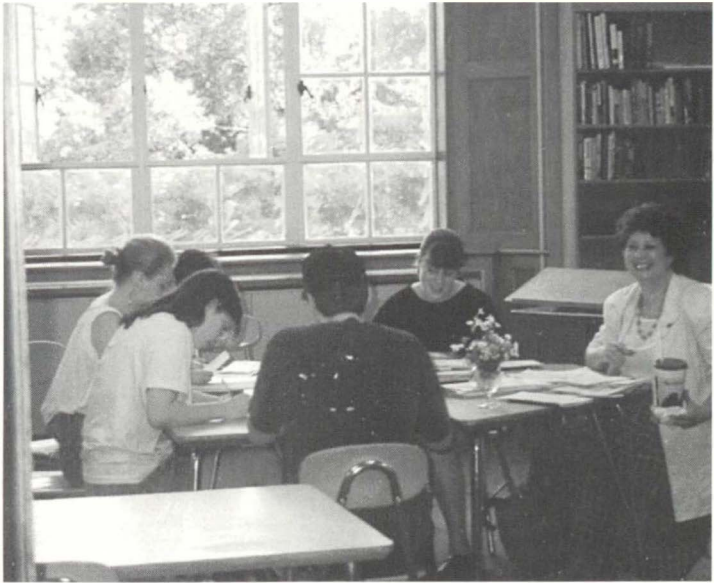

"Ahhh! That hit the spot!" (S. Priver, E. Larschan, N. Genes)

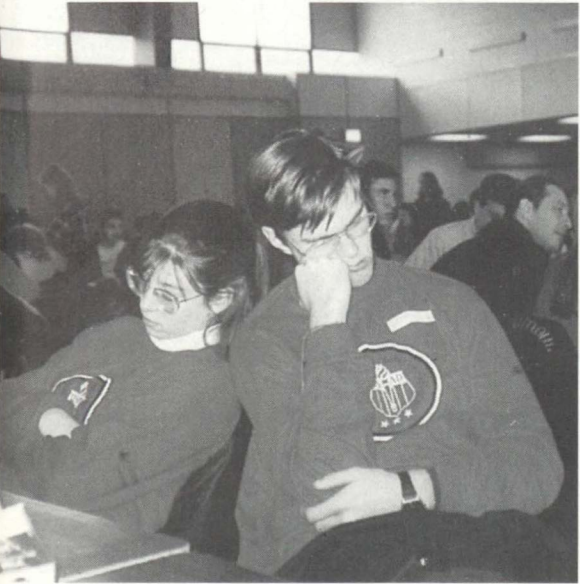

"OOOAAHHHOOO! The Jungle woman herself!" (Mrs. McCoy)

"Final Jeopardy!" (A. Venkataraman, D. Shea, E. Larschan, D. Negro, N. Genes)

"Remember children, practice makes perfect." (E. Brown, S. Priver, Mrs. McCoy)

"Put your head on my shoulder" (E. Brown, Dave Negro)

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society continued its reputation of dedication to the community and the school this year. All of the members participated in scholarship fund-raising for a non-member of the National Honor Society who exemplifies the qualities of high academic standards, leadership, service, and character. The various fund-raisers included a car wash and a kids' fair. Members ran the annual American Heart Association Phonathon which was very successful. National Honor Society members kept busy by helping out around the school with tutoring, parent's night and graduation. A trip to the Newton-Wellesley Nursing Home was a special event for the club. Two members of the National Honor Society were selected to participate in a nation wide competition for a $1,000 scholarship. The National Honor Society ended the year with its traditional induction ceremony.

PERFORMING ARTS

"You want me to what?"

Dr. Nicolucci's Performing Arts Department had another incredible year. Bye Bye Birdie was an amazing production thanks to a very talented cast and the patience and organization of Mr. Megan. The Rice Street Signers, Brooks Brothers, Song Sisters and the Concert Choir entertained with two outstanding winter concerts led by Mrs. Wightman. Also in these concerts, Mr. Platt showed off his multi-talented band. Drama did well in the yearly drama festival, in which many schools competed with one act plays. All in all, the Performing Arts Department has continued its goal to involve as many kids from Wellesley High School as possible.

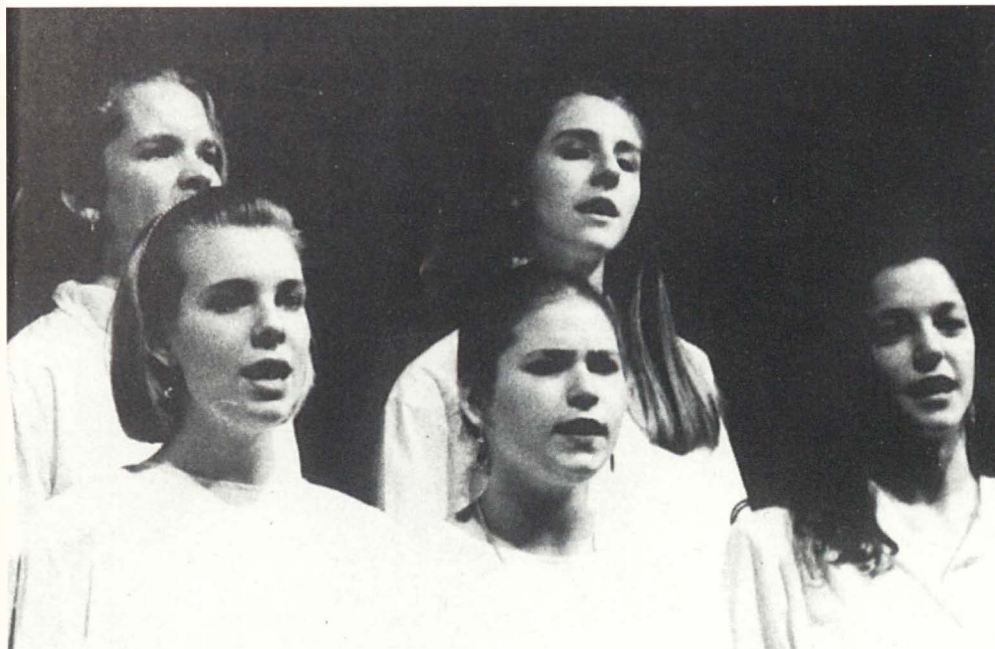

"I don't want to go to class!"

"It was very scary."

"So I'm walkin' down the street, when I say to the guy . . ."

It's very hard to smile and sing at the same time.

"Oh, a hunting I will go."

BRADFORD

Confronted this year with the task of rebuilding the editorial staff, the remaining Bradfordians strove mightily to fill the vacuum left by the departure of its senior members. Under the devoted leadership of editor-in-chief, Chris Griffith, the Bradford thrived upon the wealth of new talent that presented itself when the need arose. A zealous interest in school affairs spurred a diverse body of stories, ranging from the serious to the self-mocking. Ultimately, the revised staff was able to breathe new life and new perspective into the paper, as well as maintain the high standard of journalism that has characterized the Bradford since its conception.

KALEIDOSCOPE

"Leader of the literary lights." (Mrs. Frick)

Propelled by the creative thrust of editor, Nina Shope and adviser, Mrs. Frick, the Kaleidoscope staff forged ahead in its quest to assemble the prose, poetry, and art work of the Wellesley High School student body. Although the "sound and fury" greeted its members in their endeavors to meet the January deadline, the literary gods appeared to be smiling upon the fruit of the labors. All concerned agreed that the resulting compilation reached the zenith of aesthetic achievement. The success of the first issue of the Kaleidoscope so spurred its members that they were prompted to attempt the publication of a second. Although Nina will be missed next year by the remainder of the group, they await the arrival of fall with great expectations.

KEY CLUB

This year's Key Club has made tremendous contributions to Wellesley as well as to neighboring communities. Headed by Diane Kaplan, President; Naamah Zitomersky, Vice President; and their advisor, Mrs. Allen, the Key Club has become a valuable part of Wellesley High School.

Activities included a December hay ride for the children of Wellesley, supervising the Wellesley Middle School Teen Center, ushering and selling ticket for the Wellesley High School production of Bye, Bye Birdie and raising money for Unicef and the Globe Santa.

They also held a Thanksgiving dinner for senior citizens, worked in a Cambridge soup kitchen, and participated in a phonathon to benefit United Cerebral Palsy and a telethon to benefit the Genesis Fund.

YEARBOOK

This year's devoted yearbook staff rushed to meet deadlines, and braving the wrath of Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Ostrer, brought pictures, red pencils and quad packs home to finish their spreads on time. Losing precious sleep in exchange for stress, the staff, aided by editors Kristie Gackenhaimer, Stacy Miller, Merrie Hatch, and Nicole Hirsh, courageously met each new challenge head on in hopes of completing, on time, the task at hand — publishing this year's yearbook.

LATIN CLUB

This year, the Latin Club visited the Wellesley Inn for an exquisite Roman dinner, hosted by enthusiastic advisor, Mr. Esposito. The club continued to be active, participating in the first annual Language Mania floor hockey game with that "Veni, Vidi, Vici" spirit. All the devoted members this year learned to appreciate the Latin language and the ancient Roman Culture.

THE GERMAN CLUB

This year's German Club once again had a very successful year under the guidance of Frau Stueart. As always it was a popular club, and had many participants. Led by president Alanna Dalton, vice-president Dan Godrick, secretary Monica Staaterman, and treasurer Beth Kerchener, members participated in a variety of activities in order to raise money for the trip to Germany this summer. They began the year selling Toblerone candy bars. The German students came to Wellesley in April, and visited famous landmarks in and around Boston. The students participating in the exchange from Wellesley will be visiting Munich in July.

I'm ready to work! (President Alanna Dalton)

Hey, where did you say the meeting was? (Vice president Dan Godrick)

SPANISH CLUB

The 1993 Spanish Club was a giant success. President Alice Chen and members planned numerous activities including eating Spanish cuisine, visiting a museum, and interacting with Spanish students. Mr. Brown, club advisor, made sure that all of the events and meetings ran smoothly. Not only did the group have a lot of fun this year, but they learned and experienced various aspects of the Spanish culture.

PHOTO CLUB

President Hayman. (J. Hayman)

What a snapshot! (X. Feldman)

The Photo Club, led by Mr. Rutledge, had a very productive year. Members participated in all types of activities including field trips to the Museum of Fine Arts. Mr. Rutledge planned a few canoeing trips. Students who participated in the Photo Club were granted use of the dark room after school until 4:30 every day. Photo students also submitted some of their best work for display at Bel Canto in Wellesley center, sharing with the town the amazing talent at Wellesley High School.

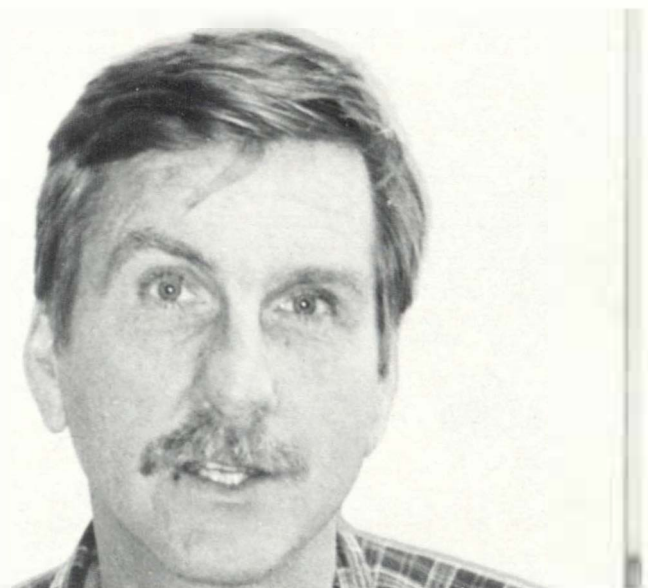

"Hey, I'm the photographer." (K. Torres)

"Oh, how cute." (B. Belanger)

"The sun is in my eyes." (L. Eastman)

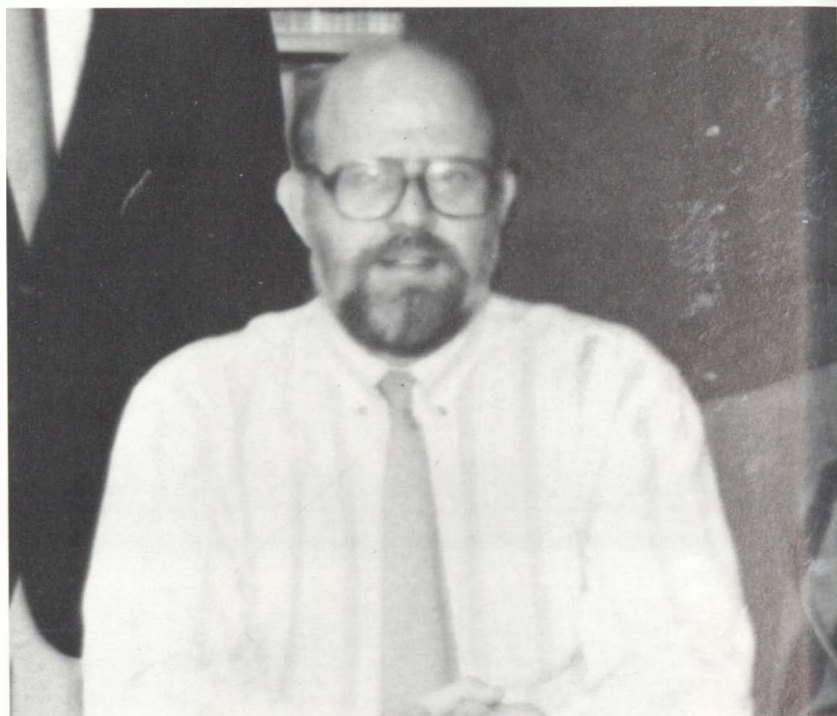

Show your pearly whites! (Mr. Rutledge)

THE SCIENCE OLYMPIAD

The Science Olympiad, under the leadership of Mr. Seiger, is known for its strong reputation. At the end of last year, the members finished sixth in the league and fifth at state competition. This year, however, was more difficult; the league's rules had changed, making it harder for the team to win its division and compete at the state level. Members enjoyed the experience.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council worked very hard to implement change throughout the school year. The organization was led by co-presidents Brian Ostrer and Kaly Lidgard. Some of their activities included the blood drive and the student caucus. Many thanks go out to the advisor, Mr. Kerivan, for all of his help and support.

1993 WELLESLEYAN SUPPLEMENT

Working out the game plan. (Coach Nadine Lilavols, Eric Jersky, Roger Reese, Hauker Thorgilsson, Dave Shea, Dave Kong)

The Varsity Boys' Volleyball Team had a difficult season with 4 wins and 10 heartbreaking losses. Led by coach Nadine Lilavols and senior captain Hauker Thorgilsson, the team demonstrated tremendous spirit and support for each other. To the players, many of whom are first-time volleyball players, this year was a great learning experience. Overall, this year's team showed a lot of promising talent and next year should be even better.

"Way to go, Ben!!" (Ben Wang)

1993 Boys' Volleyball Team — Top Left: S. Sullivan, E. Jersky, S. Marques, D. Kong, H. Thorgilsson, M. Solari, Coach Nadine Lilavols. Bottom: B. Wang, D. Shea, J. Benveniste, S. Hatch, R. Reese, and Q. Enright.

"Heads up!!" (Dave Kong)

The 1993 Sailing Team

Looks like trouble ahead (Gregg Furie)

The Wellesley High School Sailing Team enjoyed a very successful season this year. Captain Gregg Furie, along with the expert aid of head coach, Robert Stern, led the team to the Red Division Championship. The team also owed some of its success to the enthusiastic support of Eugene Carr. All of the team's hard work paid off by the end of the year when it finished with a respectable 8-3-1 record.

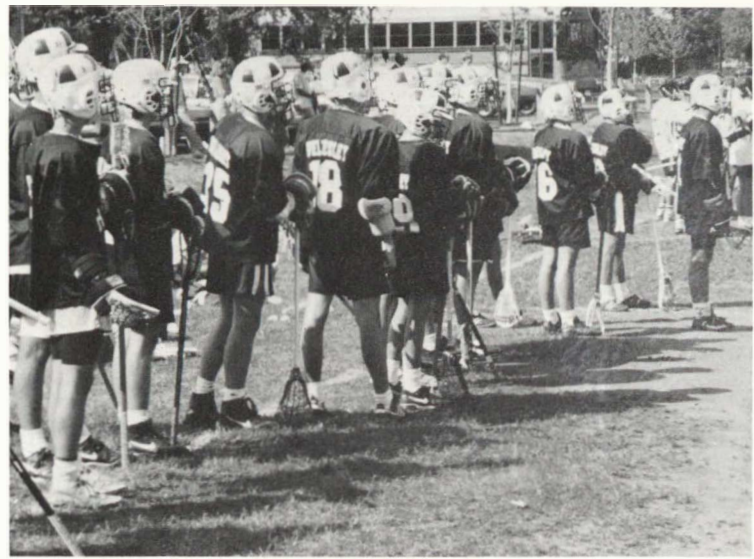

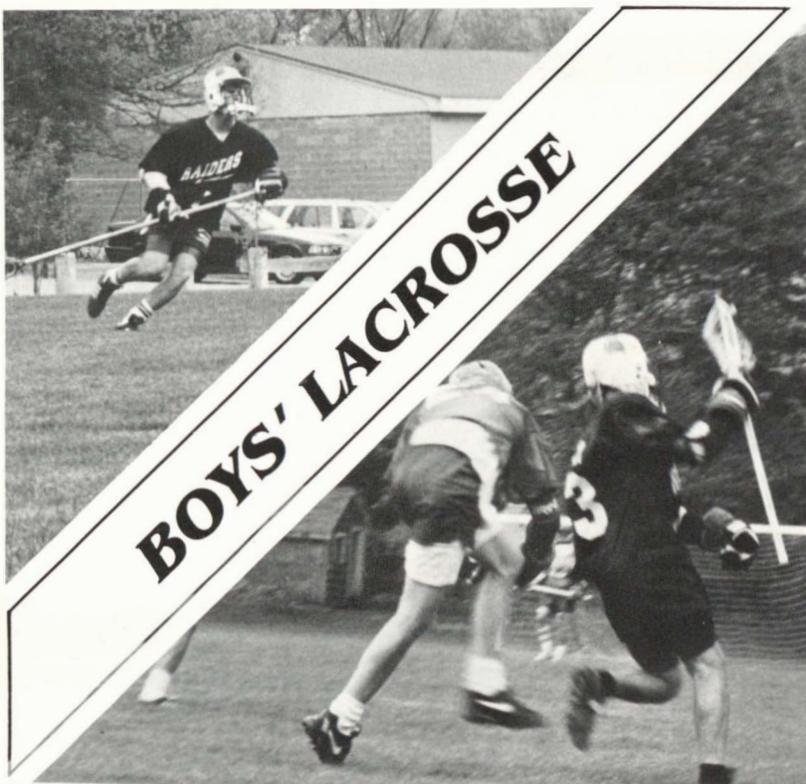

This is how to tie a SQUARE KNOT (Ryan Quinn)

What next, captain? (Jake Wallace)

The Raider Sideline

With great expectations of success, this year's Boys' Lacrosse team came out fired up and ready to play. The beginning of the season was tough with bad weather forcing the Raiders to practice indoors at 5:30 a.m. But through the enthusiasm of first year coach Rick Clark, the Raiders were confident that their season would be successful. Led by senior tri-captains Andy Leggat, Tim Hogan and Randy Stewart, the Raider Lax squad posted an 8-8 record against the toughest schedule it has faced to date. The team's biggest strength was its tenacious defense, led by Andy Leggat, Alex "Cliff" Klabin, Andy Leahey, and Mark "The Storyteller" Barron. Attackmen throughout the state were wary when entering "The Raider Kitchen." Other standouts were Shep Maher, who had an incredible season in the cage, and sophomore attackmen, Chris Ellis, David Maxwell, and Alex Quigley. Although we will lose many key seniors, our returning squad will constitute a potent threat in its first year as a varsity sport.

"GUCHIGUAHA!"

The Senior Women (Naamah Zitomersky, Sue Martin, Jane Condon, Eileen Joy)

The 1993 Varsity Lacrosse Team.

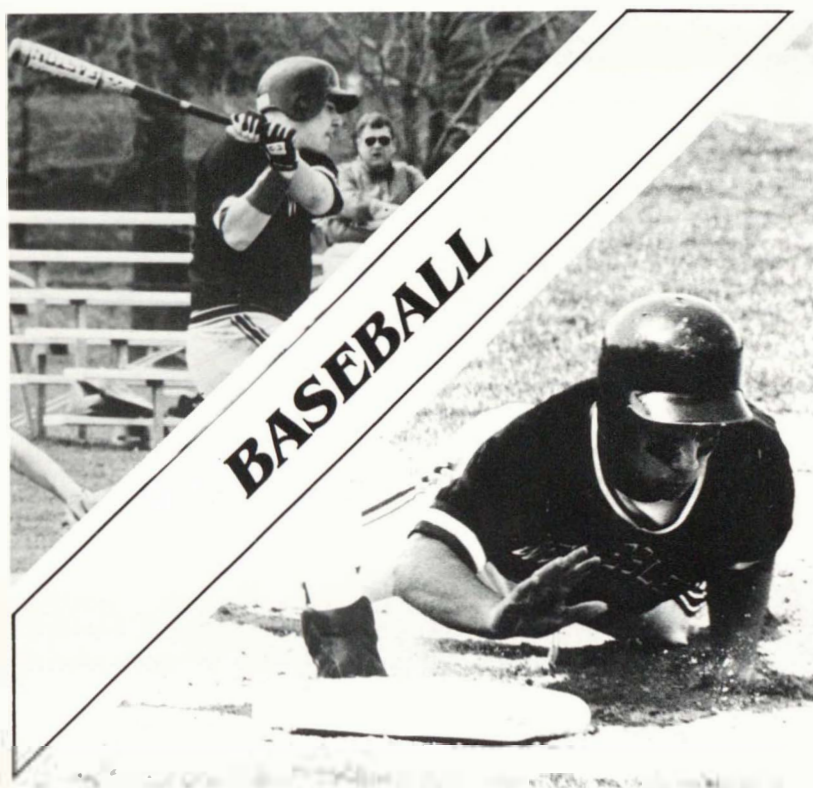

This year was a rebuilding year for the Raider squad. They graduated many key players. The Raiders had a losing season, but they contested many of their strong opponents. The Raiders only lost by one goal to Longmeadow, who went on to the state finals. There were also other close games against Lexington, Newton North, and Hingham. The Raiders graduated four seniors: co-captain Sue Martin, co-captain Naamah Zitomersky, Jane Condon, and Eileen Joy. Although the team did not win many games; the team improved more and more as the season progressed.

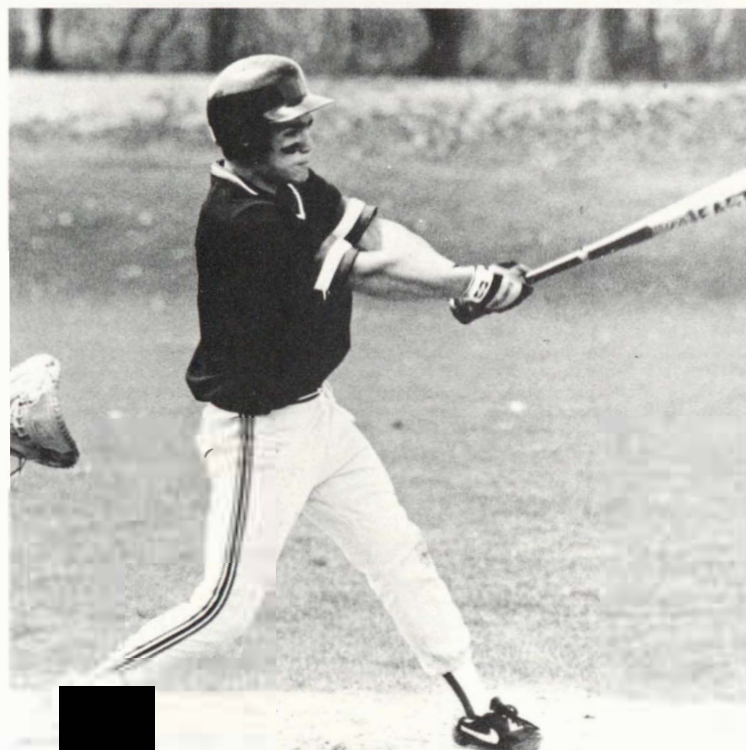

A brilliant save! (Naamah Zitomersky, Anne Faubert)

1993 Raiders Softball Team

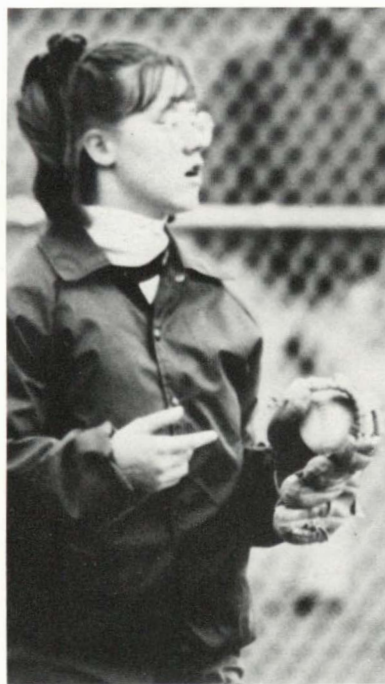

Coach Heller and co-captains Meg Steere and Tara Hanlon.

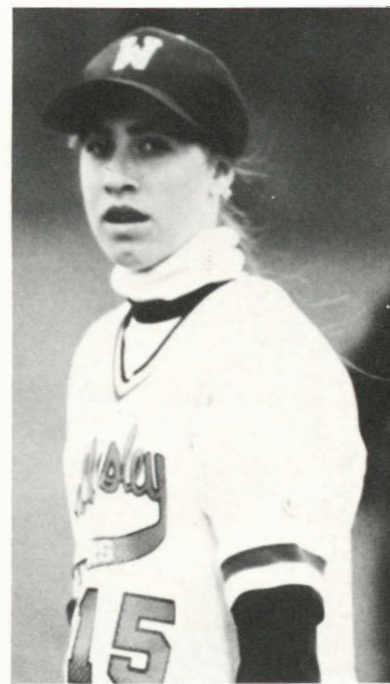

The 1993 Raiders Softball team had a rather disappointing season, finishing with a record of 7 wins and 10 losses. However, the Raiders did not let that get them down. They had intense determination, spirit, and ongoing support from Coach Heller all of which are necessary for a good team. With only five seniors leading the team, including co-captain Meg Steere, Meghan Gamble, Vanessa Martir, Deonna Gerber, and Leanne Fitzimmons, the Raiders had a lot of help from the underclassmen. These dedicated players, such as (among many others!), co-captain Tara Hanlon, Erica Lanzo, MVP Carly Regnier, and several freshmen "underdogs," give hope for a great season next year!

The 1993 Boys' Tennis Team

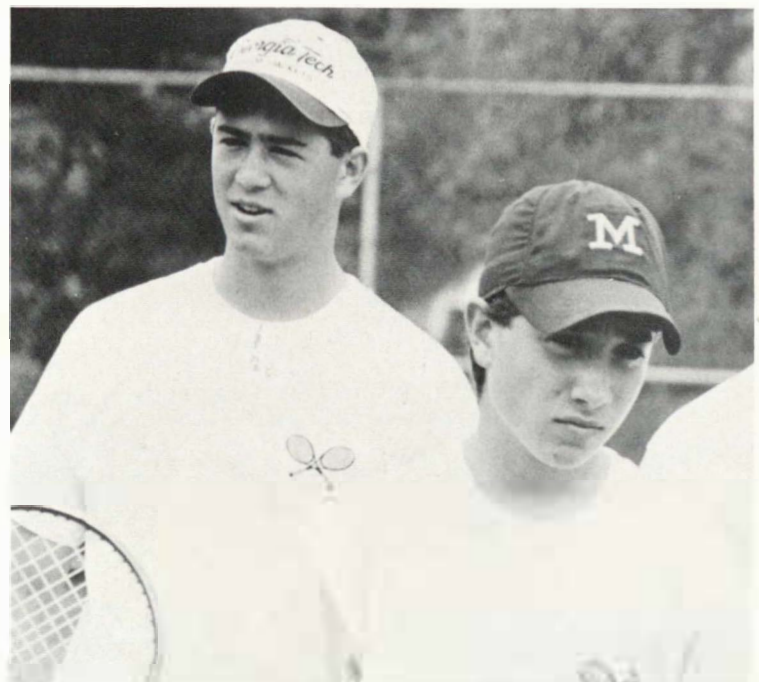

This year's Boys' Tennis team had a very successful season, although they were somewhat disappointed that they didn't make it to the tournament. Led by coach, Michael Sabin and captains Marc Lai and Dan Ferry, the team had a record of 10 wins and 9 losses. The team started quite late this year because of the bad weather at the beginning of the season. However, they were still able to have an accomplished season.

This year, the Girls' Tennis team put in extra effort for a good season. Practices were held most weekends, and even in the rain. Sickness in mid-season challenged the team, but they managed to pull through it unscathed. Strong playing by co-captain Carolyn Hall in first singles and Sarah Dinwoodey in second singles helped guide the team. Captains Lindsay Flynn and Carolyn Hall kept the team motivated. The combined talent of this team made it the only spring team to qualify for the post-season. Although losing in the first round of the tournament, the team proved that it was much improved. As most of these players, including this year's co-captain, Carolyn, will be returning next year, the team is looking forward to another strong season.

Claudia leading the pack (Claudia Solari)

This year's Girls' Track team faced another challenging season. Small numbers were a hindrance, but the team's enthusiasm made the season an emotional success. Captains Janelle Crowley and Elizabeth Brown led the way with experience and skill while new depth was added to the team with the incoming freshman class. Head coach, Mr. Walsh, was pleased with the girls' determination and effectively steered them in the direction of greater successes in future years.

This year's Boys' Spring Track team was extremely successful compared to previous years. Coached by Mr. Walsh with extra help from Mr. Redmon, the team was full of interested and talented young men. Despite a losing season, the Raiders won more meets than what was expected. Senior co-captains, Luke Burns and Jared Stiff, led the team through the challenging season, full of personal bests and school records. Highlights included the win over powerhouse Walpole and new school records set by Rob Kulch. The boys' team also included many talented underclassmen who are looking hopeful for next year.

UNDERCLASS ACTIVITIES

This spring, the underclass members of WHS found themselves engaged in planning for their classes' respective activities. While the freshmen lived it up at the Caribbean dance, the sophomores danced the night away on their starlit boat cruise. The Class of '94 passed an unforgettable evening — venturing onto the open seas for their tum around Boston Harbor on the "Spirit of Boston." Whether the festivities involved a seafaring adventure or something more to the taste of a landlubber, it is certain that a great time was had by all!

Whassup!!! (Class of '94)

The Three Amigos! (M. Stone, M. Bergamo, S. O'Brien)

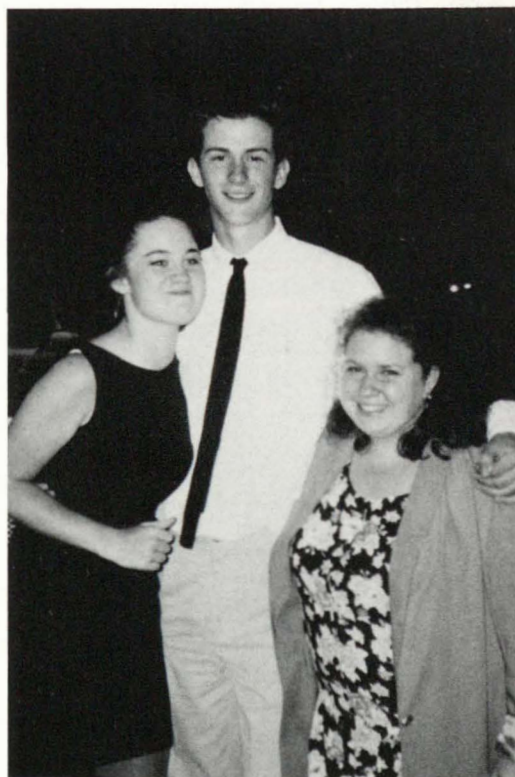

We believe we're in the Caribbean!

SENIOR

SPRING

SPRING DANCE

Once again the Senior Sponsored Spring dance was a giant success. More than half of the school attended to enjoy great music and socialize with close friends. This proved to be an opportunity to enhance one's dancing skills as well as catch up with the latest tunes. This dance was the most popular dance of the year with the largest number of people in attendance.

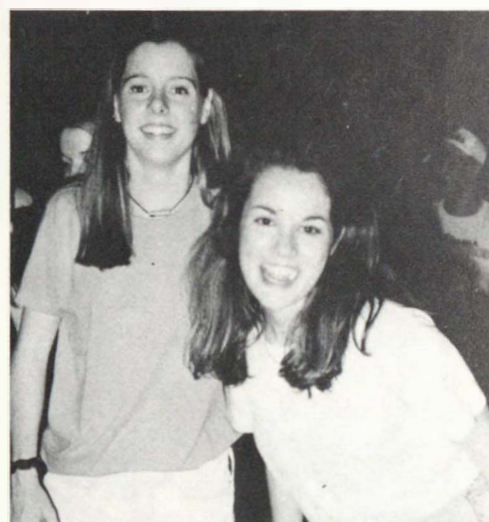

Rance and friends! (Rance Cooley, Heather Welch, Caroline Nesbit, Shannon Toomey)

Let's dance! (Mandy Gelberman, Scott Goldberg)

Dancing to the music! (Lee Buckley, Liz Hatch)

Hey, are you walkin' my way?

Doin' that crazy hand jive! (Mark Parks)

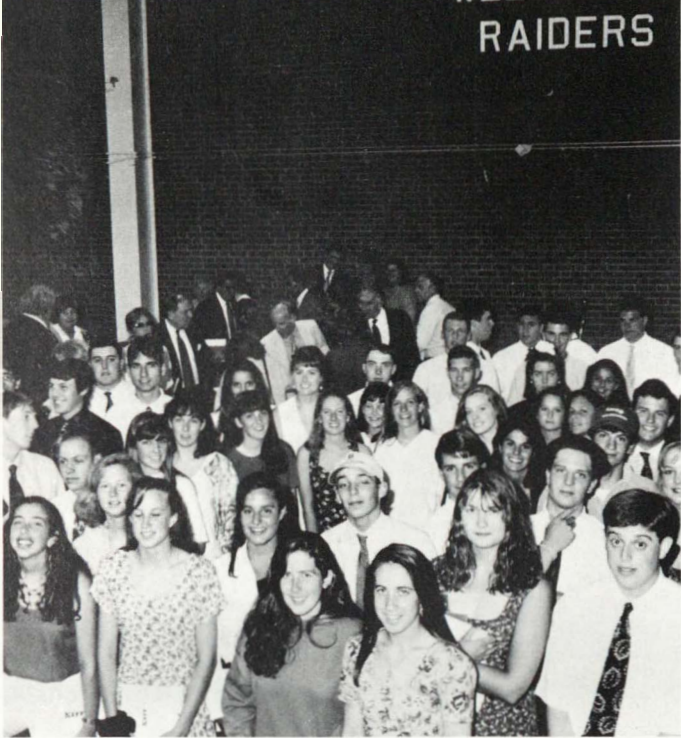

So happy together! (Alice Chen, Mirela Bergamo, Flavia Souto, Carl Savage.)

Kirsten Staatterman, Paul Tryon

ATHLETIC BANQUET

Some of the Raider finest

This year's Athletic Banquet was held on June 3, 1993. Seniors on the Raiders' many teams were recognized. They were reminded by director Ted Tripp, that their achievement on the fields of Wellesley High will follow them throughout their lives. As they go forward into new competition, the lessons of dedication, integrity, and persistence will not be forgotten.

PROM

The Senior Prom was held at the Wellesley Country Club. People arrived shortly after eight in anything from a limo to "THE MAGIC BUS." Everyone danced the night away until it was time for that one last dance. It was an unforgettable night for all.

Caught off guard. (Kris Kahn and Elizabeth Hatch)

True class spirit (Chris Edelson and Kate Cushman)

BEEP DAY

One of the oldest traditions at Wellesley High School is Beep Day. After getting into a messy shaving cream fight in the parking lot, the seniors got into their decorated cars and began the caravan through town escorted by the Wellesley Police Department. In total, the route took an hour and a half. Seniors sat on top of roofs, danced in pickup trucks and blew their horns celebrating the beginning of summer!

SENIOR BANQUET

One of the highlights of our Senior Spring was the traditional Banquet. At the Copley Marriott, we entertained a night of dinner, dancing, and celebration. We looked back on our year with an excellent slide show. The members of our class had a final chance to display their multi-talents in our senior variety show.

Boogie down, Mrs. G.I (Mrs. Goddard and Eric Collard)

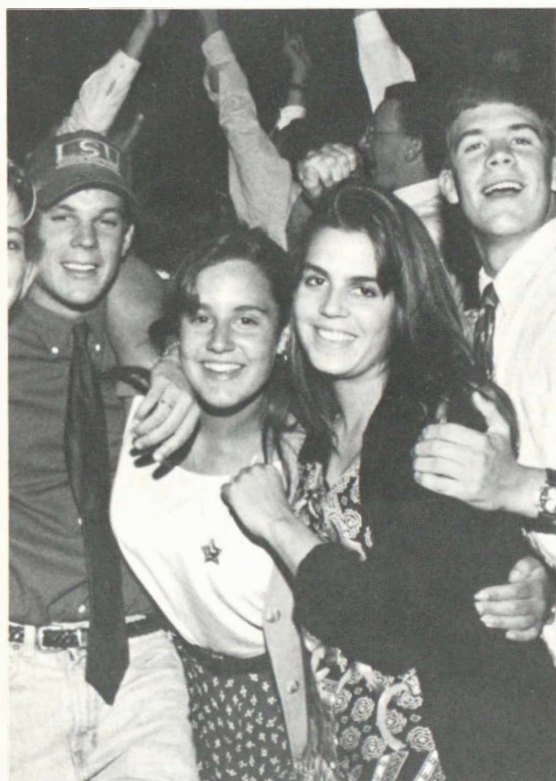

All smiles. (Elizabeth Hatch, Tonya Smythwick, Monlca Weadbrock, and Lindsay Flynn)

Flavia, I don't dance! (Andrew Chen and Flavia Souto)

"We're eating what for dinner?" (Rami Aude and Mike Dacey)

Groovin' (Dan Ferry, Daphne Mahoney, Taryn Yaitanes, and Kurt Heckel)

Go, David! (Dave Hoffman)

Stop the bus! (Mark Briand)

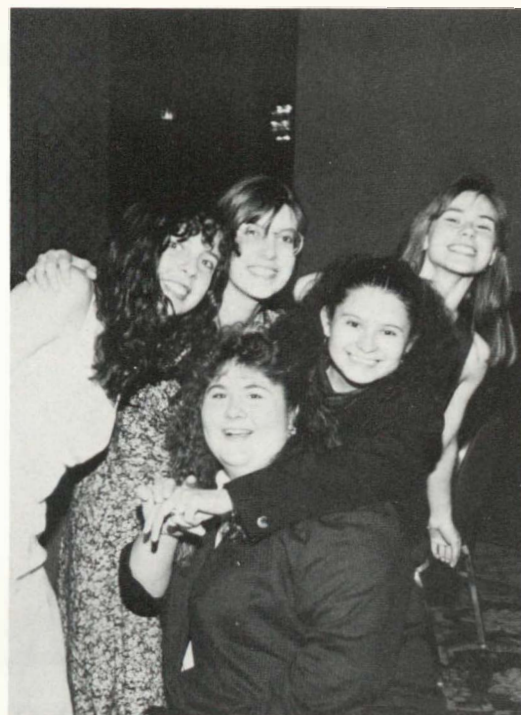

Aysha, dishing it out (Aysha Sheikh)

"Step back, Dave, and let me show you how to GET DOWN!" (Torrey Marshall and Dave Trantum)

An enchanted crowd watching the talent show

Smile pretty! (Flavia, Elizabeth, Melissa, Evelyn and Amanda)

Having fun, girls? (Ellen, Nina, Leila, Mandy, June and Megan)

"We could be on the cover of WHA T magazine?" (Tig, Nicole R., and Sally)

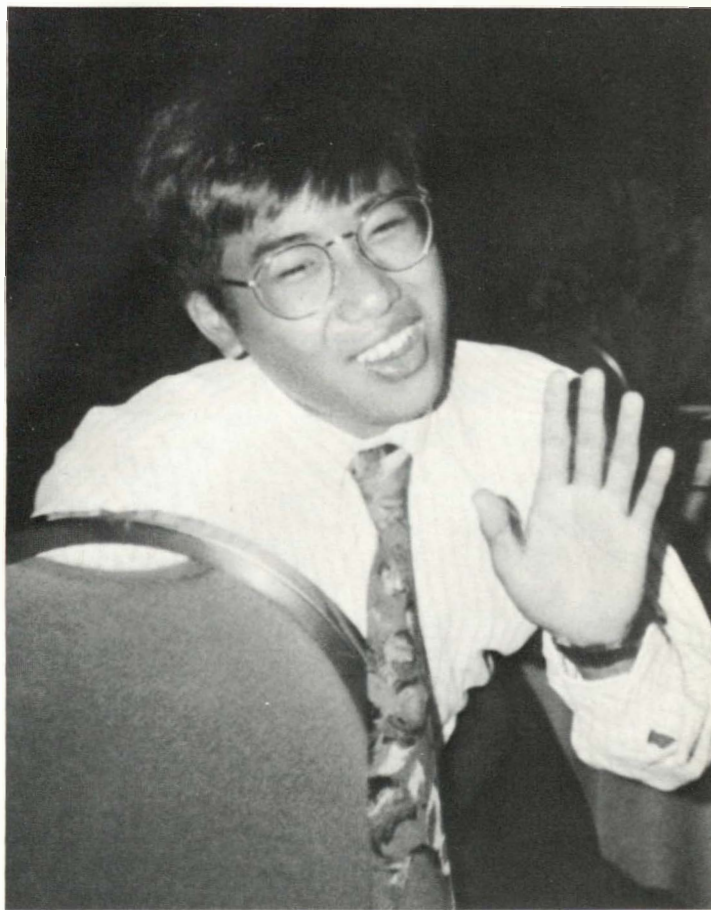

Our Senior Men (George, Andy, Luke, Chris, Lee, Tim, and Mike)

"I am number ONE!" (Meg Steere)

It's our night!

"No autographs, please." (Marc Lai)

GRADUATION 1993

On June 4, 1993, one hundred and eighty-four Wellesley High School students began a new era in their lives. Under the bright blue skies, the seniors successfully crossed the stage and received their diplomas. The ceremony included musical performances, the valedictorian's address and the presentation of the Senior Cups. The class also announced its gifts which included a donation to the Copell Service Project, picnic benches for the high school and a donation to the Matt Jong Scholarship Fund. It was a special day that will be forever remembered by all.

Relaxing on the Mez

"California here I come."

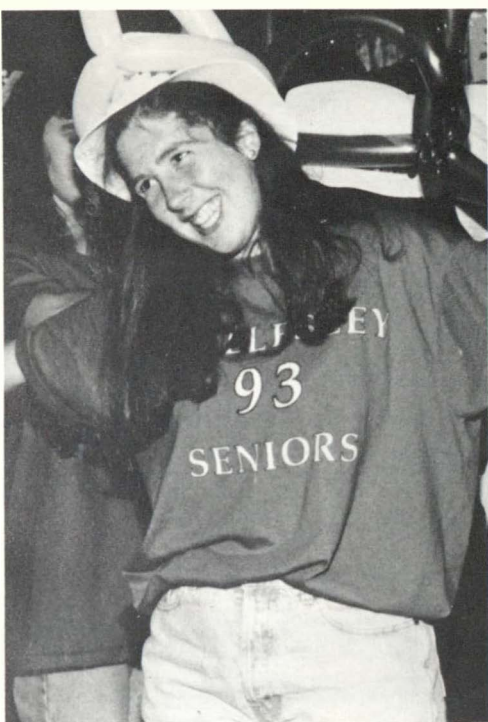

"Colin, I'm losing all of my money!!!"

"Is this hat me or what?"

TA DA!!!

Doin' that gansta thang.

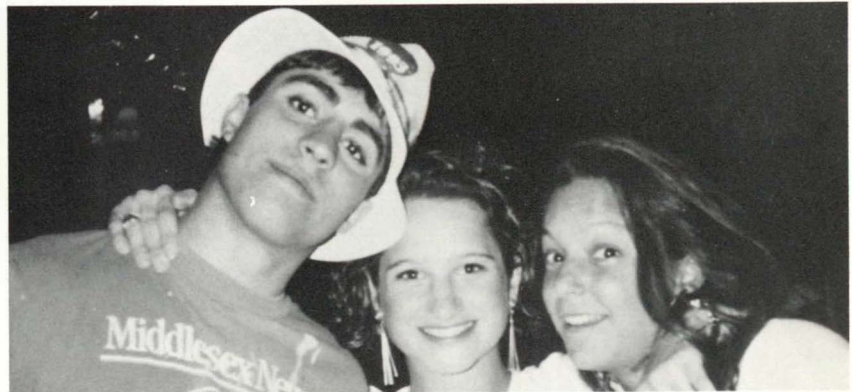

"What do you mean it's time to go home?"

Y M C A !

Put your right arm in.

SAY CHEESE!!!

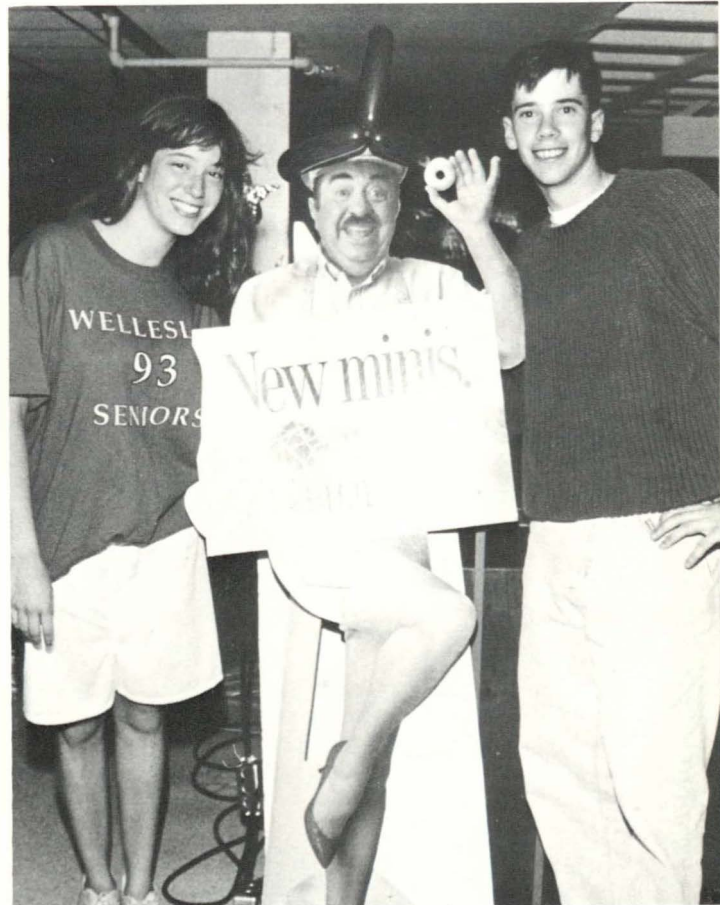

Torrey . . . with his women.

Black Jack!

Todd, contemplating a bet.

Time to make the donuts.

A YEAR

Now that Senior year is over, and your time at Wellesley High is completed, think back over the course of this year. We have taken and we have given. We have learned from our teachers, parents and friends, and no matter what your particular plans for the future might be, they will be built upon the foundation of what you have become during these four years.

Twenty years from now, will you remember . . .

That private joke between you and your friends?

Cramming for that big exam?

The excuses for the missing assignments?

The history setting Senior Women?

Your third period free?

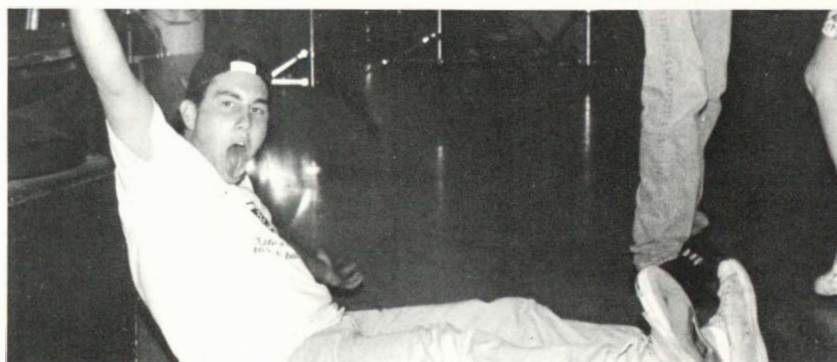

Singing your heart out?

Sitting on the sills?

Praying for a snow day?

Falling down?

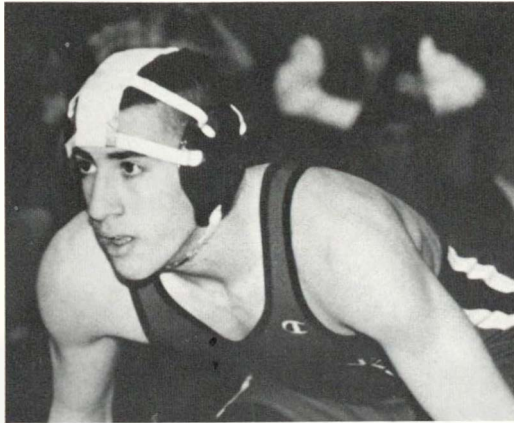

Getting up again?

IN REVIEW

Making too much noise?

The biggest meet of your life?

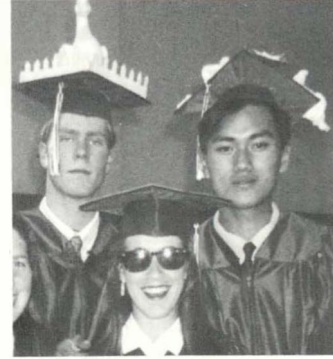

Staying up to see the sun rise?

That special someone?

The end of Walpole's reign?

Realizing it was all worth it?

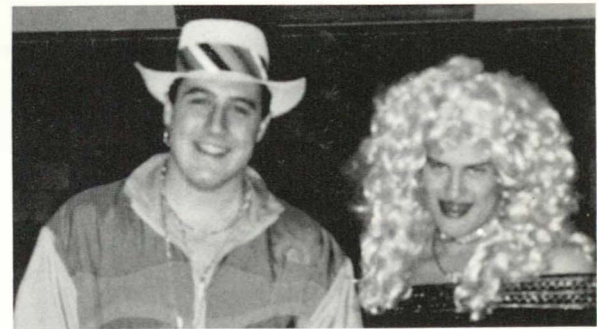

Doing anything in the name of "SPIRIT"?

Asking yourself why?

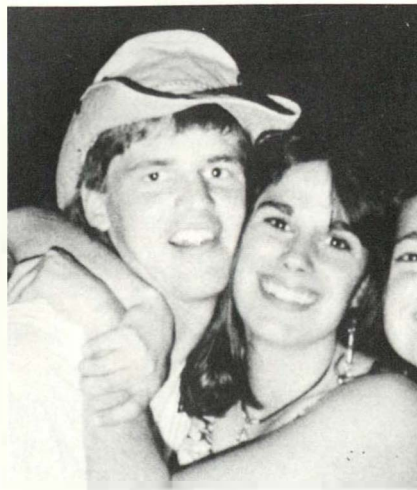

Doing something outrageous?

Thinking it was true love?

Laughing with your friends?

Never wanting to let go?

The feel of a diploma in your hand?

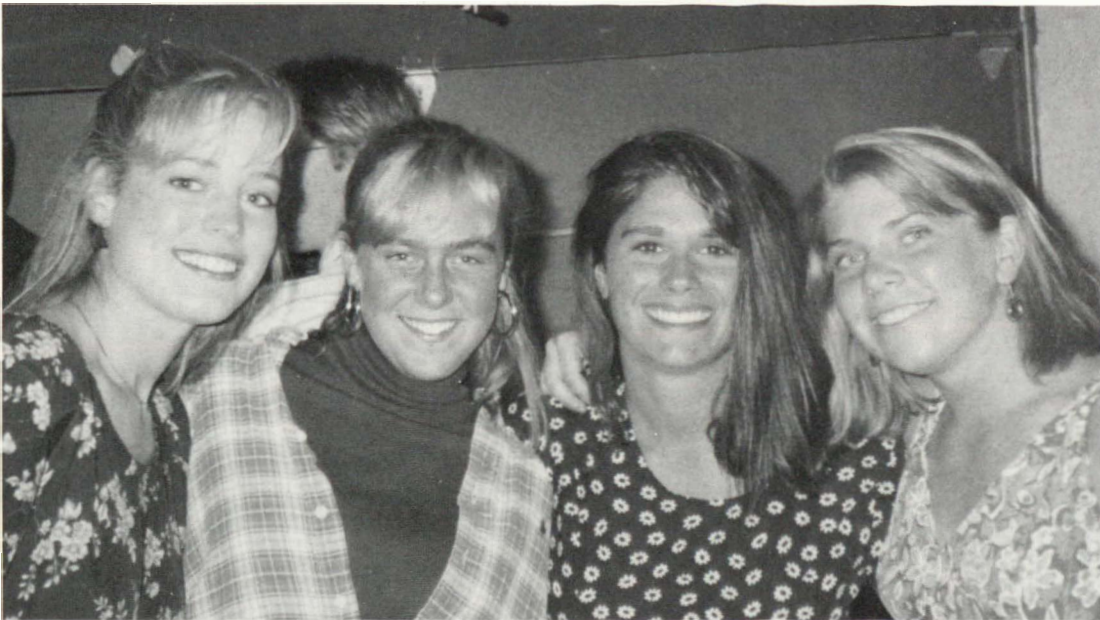

It streaked by so quickly, take these memories with you, they are the best gift you will ever receive from anyone.

END OF THE RAINBOW

So you've a dream,
Well so have we.
It's something we all do,
And yet the dreams that really reach the stars
Are a mighty few.
For most of us are cowards;
We're frightened of the night,
Afraid to trust our dreams
Beyond the limit of sight.
We anchor them with lack of faith,
We hold them down with ropes of doubt
And fear and hopelessness,
Or we depend on hopes and wistful wishing
Only to make our dreams come true;
And fail to realize our hands must help a little too.
It takes hard work and courage,
Vision, faith, these are the wings
That give the dreams the strength to soar.
No matter what life brings.
These are the wings that carry
Our daydreams high and far;
So give your dream a pair of wings
And pick yourself a star.

— Helen Lourie Marshall

Well . . . WE DID IT!!! Congratulations, Class of '93. We wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors. May all your dreams come true.

Thank you to our 92-93 staff. All of the hard work paid off for Wellesley High School's first spring yearbook in decades.

To Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Ostrer, thank you and we'll miss you.

Good Luck, Party on!
